LAWRENCE STRIKERS CLUBBED

BULLETS FLY; RIOT ACT READ

More Than Score Arrested in Battle With Lawrence Strikers

Lawrence, March 18.—The most serious disturbance in the present textile strike took place in the fog today, when mounted and foot police, clubbing freely, dispersed a strikers' parade on Elm street after City Marshal Timothy O'Brien had read the Riot Act.

Shots were fired from a two-story tenement house on Elm street into which the strikers had fled. The police arrested every man they found in the house, four or five in all.

Other arrests were made in the

300,000 a Month to Be Brought Home After March

SCHOONER GRUEBY FLOATS OFF BAR

With the pumps manned to keep her afloat, the two-masted fishing schooner Frances S. Grueby of Boston hauled in at the Fish Wharf this afternoon. The schooner had gone ashore on the bar at the easterly end of George's Island in the dense fog of early morning and floated off on the high tide. After discharging her catch of 100,000 pounds, she will be hauled up for repairs.

MARGARET WILSON'S AUTOMOBILE STOLEN

Paris, March 18.—The police are on the track of thieves who stole Miss Margaret Wilson's automobile while she was singing to American soldiers in a village near the American front. Miss Wilson is a daughter of the President.

Uphold Boston's Honor

The public health campaign to raise $270,000 to carry on the work of the BOSTON DISPENSARY, BABY HYGIENE ASSOCIATION AND DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION, will be a failure unless every individual in Boston contributes—and in accordance with his means.

The importance of the public health drive does not seem to have reached the consciousness of the public.

Sickness means discontent and disorder; community health means contentment and a higher order of efficiency.

Have we forgotten the heroic work of these organizations during the influenza epidemic last Fall? They bore the brunt of the nursing work. Have we forgotten the general paralysis of business during those terrifying days?

Does the proverbial generosity of Bostonians no longer exist? Charity begins at home.

The undersigned strongly urge that money be provided so that the work of these organizations may not have to be curtailed. Give and give again!

PHYSICIAN SOUGHT AS SLAYER

Dr. Wilkins, Wanted for Wife Murder, Missing as Second Will Is Found

New York, March 18.—New disclosures in the case of Dr. Walker K. Wilkins of this city and Long Beach, for whom the police are searching on a charge of wife murder, connect the early life of the physician with Boston.

At the age of fifteen he worked in that city as a grocer's clerk, according to his statement to the authorities. He was born in Gorham, Me.

The police and detectives today spread a general dragnet for the physician throughout the East. On issuance of a warrant for his arrest it became known that he disappeared on Sunday, following the finding of a new will.

POLICE IN WRANGLE.

Another angle to the case is the attempt of police authorities to fix responsibility for his disappearance. Two detective agencies engaged in investigating the murder and the authorities are in a wrangle over the matter and startling developments are expected. District Attorney Weeks charges that the Schindler Detective Agency was engaged to "spot"

TEN-CENT FARE FOR BAYSTATE

Commissioner Macleod Says Only Alternative Is Taxation by Communities

Chairman Frederick J. Macleod of the Public Service Commission today declared that the riders on the Bay State Street Railway were face to face with a straight ten-cent fare.

The ten-cent fare can only be escaped, he said, by forcing the cities and towns served by the road to pay through general taxation part of the cost of operating the system.

The present fare is on a ticket basis. Five tickets are sold for thirty-five cents. Passengers without tickets are charged ten cents.

As a solution of the great problems and to escape the straight ten-cent fare on the biggest street railway system in the world, which lately went under public control, Chairman Macleod recommended to the legislative Committee on Street Railways the adoption of the 50-50 bill, which provides:

ALTERNATIVE SUGGESTED.

Five cents to be paid by the car rider.

The balance of the cost of operation to be "split" between the car rider and the communities.

As Chairman Macleod explained the proposal:

"If the fare were nine cents the car rider would pay seven cents and the cities and towns, through taxation, two cents.

"Are fares coming down? Is there much cheer in sight for the riders?" a member of the committee asked.

"Not much in sight at present," said Mr. Macleod. "Our only hope is to dissipate the gloom so that he won't be asphyxiated."

Later in the hearing Mr. Macleod said:

"Eventually fares will be lower, in my opinion. Improved methods of operation which the public trustees may install and the reduced cost of materials will combine to make this possible."

Germans Stole 101st Regiment Colors, Officer Declares

By THOMAS F. PHELAN.

Camp Devens, Ayer, March 18.—That the colors of the 101st Infantry were stolen by a German retiring party and may not appear in the parade of the Yankee Division in Boston was stated today by an officer in the depot brigade. He hinted that the disappearance of the colors may have had something to do with the charges which were preferred against Colonel Logan.

Asked where he got the information he said it came from members of the 101st Infantry who arrived here recently and have since been discharged. He declared the men told him about the incident in a confidential way and for that reason did not want to mention their names. He refuses to be quoted.

Y. D. UNITS START HOMEWARD JOURNEY

By BERT FORD,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Eccomoy, France, March 18.—Artillery units of the Yankee Division (the 26th) started moving today from the Le Mans zone to the embarkation area near Brest in preparation for the voyage home.

Other units will immediately follow. The movement was ordered while the division's officers were attending a convention in Paris for the purpose of forming an American expeditionary force organization.

Brigadier-General John H. Sherburne, commanding the artillery brigade, instantly started things moving.

The order resulted in a rumor that the division would be sailing home before April, but this is unlikely. However, everyone in the division is happy over the new lap made in the homeward journey.

Brigadier-General Charles H. Cole, commanding the 52d Infantry Brigade, with two other officers of the Yankee Division, will sail within a week for the purpose of conferring with the reception committee at Boston and for completing the final details of the welcome.

Colonel Edward L. Logan's 101st Infantry celebrated St. Patrick's Day with a banquet and athletic tournament. Colonel Logan has recommended thirty-two officers and twenty-four enlisted men of his regiment for promotion.

The losses of the 101st Infantry were twenty-four officers and 332 enlisted men killed, 527 officers and men seriously wounded, 500 slightly wounded and 965 gassed. The number of enlisted men killed was 20 per cent. of the total.

Of the 26th Division 1,652 were killed and seriously wounded. The total of killed, badly and slightly wounded was 3,024.

26TH GOES DIRECT TO CAMP DEVENS

The 26th Division will not be billeted at the Army Supply Base, South Boston, on its arrival from France, but will go directly from the transports to Camp Devens at Ayer. This was officially announced today.

After the division has been properly sanitated at the rate of 2,400 men a day, it will be transferred in sections to Boston for the monster celebration and parade in its honor.

Colonel Albert S. Williams, chief of staff of the Northeastern Department, made known the final decision of the War Department on the plans for the reception of the 26th immediately upon his return from Washington today.

EXPECT SHIP EACH DAY.

While it has been definitely settled by the War Department that the Twenty-sixth will not stop over at the Army Supply Base, but will go directly from the transports to Camp Devens, the final plans for bringing the men back to Boston have not yet been agreed upon.

The transports will be docked at Commonwealth Pier at the rate of one a day. Exactly how long it will require to effect a complete sanitary condition of the entire division necessary for the return of the men to

COAL BUSINESS COST CITY $15,000

Figures made public today by Charles F. Ernst, municipal coal distributor for the City of Boston, show that the bureau ceases its activities with a deficit of about $15,000.

The original appropriation granted by the last council was $25,000. Distributor Ernst stated today that he hopes to turn back about $225,000.

Figures given out by Mr. Ernst also show that but 4,059 net tons of coal have been sold. The total amount purchased since the inauguration of the bureau in November was 13,796 tons. There is a balance of 9,677 tons left.

Of this amount Mr. Ernst claims that he can sell "over the telephone" about 8,000 tons to the dealers, where the coal is now stored for $9.50 a ton. The average cost of the coal to the city, states Mr. Ernst, was $9.50 "gross ton alongside."

The payroll of the oal Bureau, which has been the subject of much criticism from City ouncillors and others, amounted to about $1,600 a month, according to Mr. Ernst. This, he claims, was due largely to the inability of the various city departments to "loan labor."

The payroll follows:

Director, $3,500 a year; sales manager, $1,500 a year; bookkeeper, $20 per week; assistant bookkeeper, $15 a week; stenographer, $15 a week; clerk, $15 a week; truck chauffeur, $21 a week; truck operators (three), $18 a week; laborers (six), $18 a week; shipping clerk, $18 a week.

BACK BAY MAN DEAD FROM BULLET

Walter M. Knowlton was found dead, seated in a chair in the dining room of his mother's home at 377 Commonwealth avenue, with a bullet wound in his abdomen and a revolver nearby. Nine loaded revolvers were found in the next room. The dead man was 36 years old and lived with his mother, Mrs. Albion J. Knowlton. Medical Examiner Magrath said the wound was self-inflicted, but he would not say whether it was accidental or a case of suicide.

ABANDON PLAN TO 'PROCESS' MEN AT ARMY BASE

BIG TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM.

The plan now being considered for the big job of transporting the men from Camp Devens to Boston is to bring five or six thousand men to the city the day before the parade and billet them in the various armories, Mechanics Building and, perhaps, the Bacon Building.

"Then the remainder of the division can be handled on the day of the parade," said Colonel Williams, in explaining the idea. "And we hope to have motor trucks to relieve the congestion on the railroad, for it will require five trains of fourteen cars each to bring the men down on the day before the parade, and twenty-one trains of fourteen cars to home the remainder of the division on the day of the parade. More than 200 motor trucks are available for transport over the road, each truck carrying comfortably about wenty men.

TO COME BY TWO ROADS.

"The trains will reach oliston by two routes, one by the way of Worcester, the other direct from Ayer. In this manner we hope to solve the transportation problem.

"On the day of the parade we would like to have the people come to the city in their motors. Those without cars should reach Boston two or three days before the parade and be prepared to pass a week in the city.

"Colonel Bettison's plan of having the division parade in three sections on three different ways is not popular in New England, although the War Department approved of it," concluded Colonel Williams. It was Colonel Bettison who was assigned to the Northwestern Department some time ago to work out a plan for billeting the 26th. His scheme was approved by the army men, but was finally rejected in favor of the one day parade because of the general opposition to it throughout New England despite its saving of much weary work for the men.

HARD ON SHOES? THEN READ THIS

"I marched through the mud of Flanders, through a large part of the Lorraine sectors, and lastly from Chateau Thierry to Fismes, and my shoes with Neōlin Soles are still in good condition. For five months I alternated these shoes with two other pairs, which are now worn out, but the Neōlin Soles look as if they had another five good months of wear left in them." Written by Lieut. Edgerly Austin, American Expeditionary Forces, France—October 17th, 1918.

This is exceptional service, all army men will agree. Civilians rarely give their shoes usage such as this; but if they are hard on shoes, and want to cut their shoe bills down, let them try Neōlin-soled shoes. These shoes are obtainable at most shoe stores in many good styles for men, women and children.

Or have your old shoes re-bottomed with Neōlin Soles. You will find these scientifically made soles are comfortable and waterproof, as well as long-wearing. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

Parade Will Require at Least Three Hours to Pass Given Point

By THOMAS F. PHELAN.

Camp Devens, Ayer, March 18.—How long will it take the 26th Division to pass in review before the people of Boston? That is a question which is today causing earnest discussion among the officers in this cantonment. Experienced men, those familiar with the massing of troops, feel certain that it will take approximately three hours.

But the condition of Boston's streets, the possibility of congestion in certain sections through which the soldiers will parade, may cause delays that will prolong the march an additional hour or two.

Colonel Louis J. Van Schaick, a regular army man, who was press censor at Columbus, N. M., during the Mexican trouble, is one whose opinion on such matters has great weight. He figures that it will be less than four hours. He bases this conclusion on the fact that 10,000 men, marching in military precision, can pass a point in an hour.

Another officer who had experience in timing marching troops declared that 10,500 men can pass through a square in an hour. He said a squad of 175 men in good marching order can walk past a given point in one minute. That means, he said, that the 26th Division will pass the State House in review in two hours and a half. The hitch may come, he said, if the wagon trains are included in the review.

"And the chances are a great many men, because of illness, will be unable to take part in the parade," he said.

It was learned that the arrangements for the parade may be changed so as to save money for the government. A plan under consideration, it is stated, is to have the men parade from the troopship through the streets of Boston and then rest at some billeting station before coming here.

Coupled with parade talk, mention is made here of the number of pounds of beef, bushels of potatoes, loaves of bread, gallons of coffee, etc., needed to feed the men. This is a problem, it is asserted, which will be solved by the Quartermaster Corps. It is argued that a great deal of money could be saved if the men paraded before coming here. These are some of the matters, it is understood, being considered by the authorities.

Clemenceau Gets His Coat Back, Despite Bullet Holes

By International News Service.

Paris, March 18.—When M. Clemenceau, the fighting Premier of France sets out to do a thing he sees it through.

The overcoat which he had worn when the Anarchist Emile Cottin tried to kill him was used as evidence at the trial of Cottin because of the bullet holes in it. After Cottin had been convicted and sentenced to death, M. Clemenceau demanded his overcoat back. He was told that the court would retain it for future use because Cottin had appealed.

Then "The Tiger" telephoned to the judge. What he said is not known, but the overcoat was quickly returned to him.

ENGLAND THREATENED BY STRIKE OF 1,900,000

By International News Service.

London, March 18.—So serious is the labor situation that J. H. Thomas, head of the Railway Workers' Union, left here by airplane today to confer with Premier Lloyd George in Paris.

With only a month's coal supply on hand in this city, it was learned today from an authoritative source that a strike of the "triple alliance"—coal miners, railway men and transport workers—is practically inevitable.

The strike would involve 1,900,000 workers.

The government has prepared for a strike and is ready to transport food and fuel into the city in motor lorries.

the doctor and threatens to "take drastic action" in case he discovers any evidence of obstructing justice.

Dr. Wilkins is charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Julia Wilkins, on the evening of February 27, at their home at Long Beach. Suspicion early attached to the physician, authorities say, but no motive could be assigned, as the only will found up to Sunday left the bulk of Mrs. Wilkins' property to charity.

Dr. Wilkins was aware that suspicion attached to him, and was quoted as stating that his finger prints had been taken.

The second will was found in a trunk, which had already been unsuccessfully searched twice. Other suspicious circumstances were unearthed. Jewelry was found in a vase which had previously been examined by the police, and money was discovered in a drawer which on first examination had contained no money, officers say.

Mrs. Wilkins was beaten to death with a blunt instrument outside their home about 9:20 in the evening. According to the story told by her husband to the police, they were just returning home from Manhattan and were attacked by three burglars whom they found in the house. Dr. Wilkins declared that he was unconscious and showed a battered derby which he said he had worn at the time, declaring it had saved his life.

Mrs. Wilkins was removed to a hospital, where she died shortly.

DETECTIVES ON TRAIL.

According to District Attorney Weeks of Nassau County, Dr. Wilkins was informed of the finding of the will by Lewis J. Friess, formerly attorney for Mrs. Wilkins, who asked him by telephone on Sunday morning to attend a conference with District Attorney Weeks. Dr. Wilkins failed to show up for the conference and has not been seen by the authorities since.

Besides the police, two detective agencies were investigating the murder. According to the authorities, one of these agencies had been assigned to guard the physician.

Both Dr. and Mrs. Wilkins had been married twice previously. Dr. Wilkins had been divorced by his first wife, and survived his second, who was the mother of Odette Tyler, the actress. Mrs. Wilkins survived her first husband and divorced her second.

U. S. CITIZEN AND MORMON BISHOP TAKEN BY VILLA

WOULD SEIZE UNDEVELOPED STREAMS

The first gun in a fight that will mean millions of dollars to the public of Massachusetts was fired at the State House today, when the Committee on Waterways and Terminals considered a bill which gives authority to the State commission to seize undeveloped waterpower and lease it to private companies.

Alonzo R. Weed, in presenting the report of a commission which has investigated the State's waterpower, said it is in the interest of the whole commonwealth to develop water power to its utmost, adding that there was fully 175,000 horse power still possible of development in the State.

State ownership or even operation Mr. Weed described as a "very ambitious scheme" which the committee did not feel warranted in suggesting. The solution of the problem, he said, had seemed to be to recommend legislation that would encourage owners to create necessary water storage. Copying the Wisconsin law, he said, it had been suggested that the corporation to be formed be called an improvement corporation and comprise mill owners represented by a majority in interest and in numbers, to forestall possible danger of a small minority overwhelming the others.

The purpose of this corporation, he said, would be to increase storage space to equalize the flow of a give nstream throughout the year. Projects, he explained, must first have the sanction of the State commission.

John N. Cole, chairman of the Commission on Waterways and Public Lands, reserved the right to speak after the opposition had been heard.

Henry I. Harriman, president of the New England Power Co., spoke in favor of the measure, stating his belief that State regulation would be for the public interest.

W. Rodman Peabody of the Turners Falls Power Co., Arthur T. Safford of Lowell and E. E. Davis of Northampton also spoke in favor of the bill.

The opsition was opened by Everett C. Mason, trustee of the Franklin County Power Co., who demanded that the rights of the mill owners be protected.

He was held in $3,000. Sultis lives on Camden street, South End. They quarreled last Thursday as the ship was at anchor off Thompson's Island. Smith says Sultis tried to scratch his eyes out.

Shimmy-She-Wobble Dance Now Barred --Heigh-ho!

And you can't dance any of the dances which might be considered "Oriental," whatever they are; nor in your spurs, nor cheek to cheek.

This edict was put forth today by no less a personage than Joseph L. Champagne. Who's he? He brought a neatly printed card into the American office just before lunch time bearing the Copley-Plaza coat of arms and down at the bottom of the card the name, Joseph L. Champagne, Maitre de Danse.

Memories of S. Hooper-Hooper, cotillion leader. No more oriental dances. No more the "Seraglio Glide," "The Dance of the Seven Veils," "The Omar Khayam Limp," the "Rajah Dip," the "Ganges Goosestep," all more or less popular in Boston's most exclusive dansant circles.

Here's the cold, cruel way the announcement read on the card:

The management of the Copley-Plaza is desirous that its dances be conducted to meet the approval of a discriminating public and that there be no occasion for criticism.

In conforming thereto, patrons are requested to observe the following regulations:

1. Not to change partners during a dance.
2. Not to stand around the ballroom or cross the floor without a partner.
3. Not to dance with heads or cheeks together.
4. Not to dance in military spurs.
5. Not to dance the "Shimmy" or any dancing steps which might be considered "Oriental."

COURT ASKED TO FIX ALLOWANCE IN EATON CASE

The sons of the late Charles S. Eaton would rather "shovel coal" than continue to operate Thompson's Spa in conjunction with Mr. Eaton's widow, their joint heir to the property, Attorney William R. Sears told Judge Braley in Supreme Court today.

The statement was made in the course of a plea by the attorney for the sons that Thompson's Spa be sold, as it was impossible for them to cooperate with Mrs. Eaton. The petition was denied.

Judge Braley stated that until an executor of the estate had been appointed by the Probate Court of Essex County there would be no sale of the partnership interest.

Attorney Sears said that no better time to sell the property could be selected, and that the litigation which Mr. Eaton's widow had instigated made it impossible that his sons could ever work harmoniously with her.

Attorney Charles F. Choate for the widow said that she "had no bitterness in her heart against them, although they have shown a vindictive spirit, but would like them to operate the business for their own financial profit and hers."

Judge Braley was also asked to fix the allowance to be made from the business to Ezra H. Eaton, who has been discharged from the military service, at $1,250 a month. To this Mrs. Eaton's lawyer said he had no objection if a similar allowance were made his client.

street until a total of twenty-one men and one woman had been taken in custody.

Bricks and lumps of concrete were hurled at the police. Patrolman Martin Dunn was hit on the shoulder with a brick and was injured so severely that he was sent to the General Hospital.

MANY HEADS CLUBBED.

Many heads were hit with police clubs. After the strikers were dispersed several of the strikers and their sympathizers were bleeding from blows they received from the police clubs.

Some of the police first on the scene declared that a red flag was being carried in the parade. This was later denied by the strikers, who claimed that what the police saw was an Italin flag, with its broad vertical stripes or red, green and white. The strikers maintained that in the fog and confusion the red stripe in the Italian flag was mistaken by the police for an all-red banner.

The paraders were, however, singing the socialist hymn, the "Internationale," when the police arrived.

There were no women in the parade although it was later said that a woman was seen to hurl a missile from a window.

RIOT ACT IS DEAD.

This is the first time that the Riot Act has been read in the present strike. The sixteen men arrested were charged with rioting. Heretofore the men and women arrested in these textile troubles have been charged with disturbance. If convicted on a charge of rioting the men arrested today are liable to imprisonment for a year or more.

The parade seemed to be without leaders or formal plans. The strikers assembled at 8:20 at Common and Union streets by the Everett Mills. About one thousand strong they moved along Union street and swung up Elm street as far as Newbury. At this time the fog hung so heavily that the moving mass of men was more of a blurred body than a well-defined parade.

The woman arrested was Concettia Spano. The twenty-one men were:

Thomas Melowski, Joseph Wawosyhecis, [illegible] Coco, Tony Lacastro, Emilio [illegible] Mangoon, Michael Geleski, Gaetania Silera, Jacob Stanka, Anthony Rockowskas, Sabastiano Costanzia, Vietro Ramateti, Salvatore Cizardi, Carmello Cristardio, Frank Costanzio, Carmello Camilio, Stephen Solonway, Tony Martino Carmello Scinto, Vincenzo Lotiano and Alex La Rosa.

FACE COURT TOMORROW.

They will be arraigned in the local court tomorrow.

> The marshal is a justice of the peace. The law provides that when thirty or more persons who are gathered together are called upon by a justice of the peace to disperse and refuse to obey the dispersal order, they may be arrested under the Riot Act.

The order read by the marshal was thus:

> "I, Timothy J. O'Brien, Justice of the Peace, in the name of the Commonwealth, ask you to disperse."

By SIDNEY DARK.

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Paris, March, 18.—The British navy has begun to prepare a memorandum of sea strength as a result of the disturbing statement of Secretary Daniels that the United States may police the seas under the League of Nations covenant, it was learned here today.

The League of Nations with the various questions involved is still the big problem.

It is possible that the peace conference proceedings may yet develop into a personal duel of strength between President Wilson and Premier Lloyd George of England, over the inclusion of the League of Nations covenant in the peace treaty. This would inevitably delay the formulation of the convention.

League Constitution May Go Before Plenary Session on Saturday

By JOHN EDWIN NEVIN,

International News Service Staff Correspondent.

Paris, March 18.—A program is now developing which may result in plenary session of the peace conference being held on Saturday—the first since President Wilson's return—for approval of the constitution of the League of Nations. Another probably will be held in the following week to confirm the naval, military and air terms to be imposed upon Germany.

The most speed that has been made since the opening of the conference is resulting from the "getting together" meeting of President Wilson and the representatives of the "Big Five" at the Quai D'Orsay yesterday.

It is now practically certain that the President will be back in the United States not later than May 15, and that he will immediately tour the country in favor of the peace treaty, which, including the covenant of the League of Nations, will be laid down in the Senate at Washington in such diligent order that no one can find an "I" to dot nor a "t" to cross.

ATTITUDE ON IRELAND.

It is now possible to give the President's views on the Irish problem—a question with which his name has been closely linked with the Sinn Fein leaders.

It is understood from President Wilson's informal conversations with friends that he considers the Irish question one which could not be decided by America under the League of the covenant as meaning that no nation can be robbed of its rights when it votes "no" upon any proposition. Therefore, should the United States, Great Britain or any other power in the league vote in the negative upon any question the league could not compel the fulfillment of any view to the contrary.

The President held another conference today with Premier Lloyd George and Lord Robert Cecil on the League of Nations constitution. The President is determinedly opposed to any method which would interfere with an agreement upon the league's [illegible] the constitution will be ready for final consideration Saturday. When it is approved it may make a first class pre-[illegible] in itself.

Inasmuch as every one seems to be insisting that the President settle various pending problems, he has about decided to do so.

Immortalize Their Heroism in Imperishable Bronze

IN JUSTICE to the sacrifice they made and to the resounding glory of the cause they upheld—it is fitting that the names of those who went be placed on high and in everlasting material!

In your labor headquarters, town, club, society, church, lodge, office, council, factory—wherever a band of people associate — there should be a memorial tablet dedicated to members who served their country in this great world war.

A group of carefully designed tablets, union-made, in Bronze cast Dymaikon Process are now at your command. We have applied the skill of our famous craftsmen to their preparation and are ready to provide for you that identical tablet which best fits its place and purpose.

Is it dignified and careful to set up a temporary placard of wood, paint and paper to serve such a noble honor?

A memorial tablet speaks the same message as the majestic arch, shaft or temple, and that message will be just as fine and as far-reaching if its form is appealing and beautiful. Strength with refinement, elegant simplicity and a grace of handling that imparts charm is in every design we submit.

No. C-1 BRONZE HONOR ROLL TABLET—28 inches high by 17 inches wide. Will accommodate 100 names in No. 12 letters. Price $190, including the first twenty-five names.
NOTE: Manufacturer's trade-mark at top of tablet illustrated above.

Let us help you and your committee who have this matter in hand. We have served in hundreds of similar problems throughout the country and are professionally prepared to aid in selecting the fitting memorial to be mounted indoors or outdoors, whether Honor Roll or Memorium, or Flag Staff with Memorial Base or a Fountain with Tablet, or a Symbolic Group to be erected on public or private property. Our services and advice are at your command.

BOSTON BREWERS CONSIDER NEW PLAN FOR 2¾ PER CENT. BEER

TO AWAIT DECISION BY COURT

Is 2¾ per cent. beer intoxicating?

Boston brewers are told that it is not, in the meaning of the law, and they are today considering the manufacture of beer of this strength even after May 1, the date set under the war-time prohibition bill for the discontinuance of the brewing of all beverages.

Men in the beer trade here became busy investigating the situation after fifty New York brewers had announced that they would continue or resume the brewing of 2¾ per cent. been on the advice of counsel. Elihu Root, one of the leading constitutional lawyers in the country, has given it as his opinion that such beer is not intoxicating within the meaning of the statute, and that the brewers will be within their rights.

Prohibitionists in New York, Massachusetts and all parts of the East are up in arms over what they consider an attempt to take advantage of a technicality and defeat the purpose of war-time prohibition.

WILL FIGHT SAYS ANDERSON.

William H. Anderson, State superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, and a national leader of the dry cohorts, said: "I do not pretentd to be in the same class with Root as a lawyer, but I have observed that the most brilliant lawyers are vulnerable when they take the wrong side of a moral issue.

"The proposition that 2¾ per cent. beer is not intoxicating, which means 3 per cent. beer in volume, is absurd. The prohibitionists will fight such proceedings to the last ditch."

The loophole which the lawyers for the brewers say they have discovered is that when the Internal Revenue Department decreed that beer of more than one per cent. alcohol came within the war-time prohibition bill as being intoxicating, they exceeded their authority.

E. A. Burkhardt, treasurer of the Burkhardt breweries, was today disinclined to continue the brewing of beer until developments indicate what success the New York attempt will have. Other Boston brewers preferred to wait until conferring with counsel or with others in the trade before committing themselves.

Theodore C. Haffenreffer of the Haffenreffer breweries said: "Beer of 2¾ per cent. strength is surely not intoxicating. Beer of 3 per cent. alcohol was always brewed in Maine under State prohibition."

ROPER WON'T INTERFERE.

Such brewers as do determine to brew 2¾ per cent. beer, notwithstanding the Internal Revenue Department's ruling, will not be interferred with until the matter has been threshed out in the courts, Collector Roper stated in an interview at Washington.

The interview, which seemed to give hope to the brewing interests, concluded with the statement, "Whether such beer is intoxicating is an open question. It will require much study. As you know, the President just released the restriction placed on grain."

"If the brewers win their fight to have 2¾ per cent. beer declared non-intoxicating under wartime prohibition, I do not see why it could not be brewed under national prohibition," said a prominent attorney today.

SCORE O'LEARY AS PLUNKETT'S SPONSOR

Plans to pass a vote of censure of Chairman Michael A. O'Leary of the Democratic State Committee because he served as escort to Sir Horace Plunkett on the latter's visit here, became known today through Democratic leaders. It is expected that the action will be taken at a caucus of Democratic members of the Legislature.

The conference had been called by Representative McDonnell of South Boston, Democratic House leader, and Representative Manning of Brockton. McDonnell stated today that the caucus would be held for the purpose of considering pending legislation, particularly Mayor Peters' bill to increase the tax limit by $3. It was generally known, however, that the other matter would have paramount consideration.

O'Leary went to the State House with Sir Horace, and with William F. Fitzgerald, was the visitor's only escort when he made his speech in the Senate against self-determination for Ireland. Representative Thomas A. Niland of East Boston severely criticized O'Leary at the time.

WIFE IS HIT TWICE BY STAR TEACUP TWIRLER

James J. McDonald is a good shot. His wife said in East Boston court today that McDonald threw two teacups at her, both of which hit her. One cut her scalp so that two stitches were necessary at the East Boston Relief Station. The two live in Havre street, East Boston, where they moved in only last Saturday. McDonald is fifty-six. He was found guilty of drunkenness and the charge filed. On a charge of assault and battery he was sentenced to one month in the House of Correction.

WAKEFIELD SCHOOL IS CLOSED FOR FUMIGATION

Wakefield, March 18.—The Warren Grammar School was closed today to permit the health officials to fumigate following the death yesterday from scarlet fever of six-year-old May C. Farrington of No. 64 Cedar street. The child was a member of the first grade and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farrington.

SERVICE NOTES

Colonel E. M. Blake, who has been liason officer in France and recently returned to America, has been assigned as inspector-general of the Northeastern Department, relieving Colonel Warren P. Privates Andrew Pacatoulous of Peabody, James P. Hannon of South Boston and Howard A. Pratt of Worcester have been found guilty of dodging the draft and sentenced to Fort Jay, N. Y., for one year, with the sentence of dishonorable discharge from the army omitted. The sentences were signed by Major-General Edwards.

TELLS OF LEAKS IN CIVIL SERVICE

Henry H. Herrick, proprietor of a chain of business schools in Fall River, New Bedford and Worcester, today declared that as a result of "leaks" in the office of the Civil Service Commission he frequently has had copies of the examination questions two weeks or more before the examinations were held.

"I have had the examinations of the Civil Service Commission long before the examinations were held, and I've given pupils in cities of this Commonwealth instruction in the very questions they were to be asked," he said. "That's a broad statement, Mr. Chairman, and I don't make it in any spirit of boasting.

"I've beaten the commission going and coming and I guess they know it. Some of their examinations have been a joke. In Fall River the people say, 'Go to Herrick.'

"President Wilson did right in demanding the resignations of the National Commission. Governor Coolidge ought to do the same thing here. Clean the house from top to bottom. I know, because I've done business with both."

Mr. Herrick made these statements at a public hearing held at the State House by State Supervisor of Administration Thomas W. White, who today began an investigation of the Civil Service Commission ordered by the Legislature.

Elmer L. Curtiss, a member of the commission, was present. The other members of the commission are Courtenay Crocker and Harvey N. Sheppard.

Herrick did not give the details of the alleged "leaks." The hearing will be resued Thursday morning.

RAISE TEACHERS' PAY IN NEWTON RECORD BUDGET

Newton public school teachers will get an average increase of 12 per cent. in salary under an annual city budget of record-breaking size passed by the Board of Aldermen. The budget appropriation provides for $1,850,415.53 for city expenses during 1919. The budget calls for an increase of 10 per cent. for nearly every clerk and department head in the city employ, in addition to the 12 per cent. betterment for school teachers. Although the total appropriation is $53,000 less than the budget recommendation by Mayor Childs, it is the biggest one in Newton history. The largest single item in it is for the school department, $532,345.

JUDGE RATHBUN TO BE SUPREME COUT JUDGE

Providence, March 18.—Judge Elmer J. Rathbun of the Superior Court will be elevated to the Supreme bench by the General Assembly in grand committee tomorrow, according to political schedule of the Republican majority of 92 of the 139 members of the General Assembly. Judge George T. Brown of the Superior Court will be placed in nomination by Democratic leaders. J. Jerome Hahn is slated for the position. In the selection of Attorney Hahn for the vacancy caused by the elevation of Judge Rathbun, Rhode Island will elect the first Jew to a judical position in the State, say political leaders.

O'Brien as Centre Lecturer

Maurice J. O'Brien, newly appointed head master of the Hugh O'Brien School, will address the Roxbury School Centre Wednesday evening on "Children of Today." The address will be followed by a motion picture story. Adults are cordially invited.

BAR 'HIGH LIFE' STORY AT TRIAL OF BETTY INCH

Pretty Defendant Confident of Acquittal on Extortion Charge

New York, March 18.—"This is the last evening I shall pass in my Centre street boudoir with its cute little barred windows."

So buoyantly trilled Betty Inch, in predictive mood, as she tripped twinkingly Tombsward on the silk-clad means of locomotion that have figured even more prominently than the late Mr. Blackstone's erudite logic in her extortion trial. Betty continued:

"Those sweet-faced jurymen will free me, I am sure. What else could they do after hearing even a tiny part of that poor little Hayes girl's story?"

May Hayes was a witness for the defence. Justice Davis ruled out most of the startling story she was prepared to tell of her alleged relations with Eugene P. Herrman, wealthy motor truck man and Mrs. Inch's accuser.

The appearance of the tiny "girl of mystery" in her black satin dress and velvet toque and her manner of nodding affirmatives to the intimate questions of her association with Herrman before the court sustained the objections of the State, focused the attention of the jury on her and the things she wasn't permitted to testify to.

The long-missing girl witness came to court under the protection of her recently-wed husband, Irving Benjamin, of Cincinnati. Of the score or more questions asked by Mrs. Inch's attorney, William J. Fallon, the court permitted the girl to answer only two. These were to the effect she had known Mr. Herrman for over a year and that she had talked to him (at his expense) over the long distance telephone three weeks ago.

The self-possessed, suave Herrman followed her on the stand and calmly repeated his denials he had ever seen her before. Then Mr. Fallen unexpectedly closed his case. The remainder of the session was consumed in closing arguments to the jury.

Mr. Fallon declared he had not called Mrs. Inch as a witness in her own behalf largely because he would not place her behind the much discussed "spite fence" which he termed "that monstrosity." He added:

"Let Mr. Talley dare tell you Herrman doesn't know May Hayes? If he does he is a better actor than you will ever see on the stage."

In vivid contrast to the resonant phrases and thunderous defiances of his opponent, Assistant District Attorney Talley quietly analyzed the evidence. He pictured Mrs. Inch as the originator of a blackmail scheme, and accused Fallon of "bold distortion of the testimony."

Exchanges between opposing counsel were bitter, especially during the testimony of May Hayes. Mr. Fallon took particular exception to every question ruled out by the Court. Some of these were:

"Did you go to the Parkside Hotel with Herrman? Did you go from there to his apartment on One Hundred and Tenth street? What was the condition of your health a few weeks later? Did you phone to Herrman in May, 1918? Did he send you money? Did he take you to his home?"

Mrs. Benjamin spoke of Herrman as "Gene" and "Eugene."

SERVICE MEN'S BUREAU PASSES TO STATE HOUSE

The Massachusetts Soldiers' and Sailors' Bureau of Information today passed out of existence. After somewhat more than a year's activity, it passed into the hands of the Adjutant-General's department at the State House. The bureau was established by former Governor McCall, with Charles S. Baxter as director. It had also a Paris headquarters under the direction of Major Morton Prince of Boston. Two of its former officers, Major H. F. Reed and former Representative Casey of South Boston, will go into the Adjutant-General's department to help wind up the work of the bureau.

MRS. ELIJAH BURROUGHS DIES IN BROOKLINE

Mrs. Elijah Burroughs died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Sidney L. Burr, No. 147 Coolidge street, Brookline, yesterday, in her ninetieth year. Her late husband for many years was in charge of the railroads and town bridges between Cambridge and Charlestown. Mrs. Burroughs was born in Brighton, but lived most of her life in Charlestown. She was the oldest member of the First Baptist Church of Charlestown. She is survived by four grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

CAPTAIN GARLAND ON POLICE FORCE 36 YEARS

Police Captain George C. Garland, in charge nights at police headquarters, is today receiving congratulations on the occasion of the thirty-sixth anniversary of his joining the department. Captain Garland began his police career as a patrolman in station 5, and has served as sergeant at stations 10, 12 and 3, respectively, returning to station 5 as captian, from which station he was appointed to his present position.

WORCESTER MAN HELD ON BAIL AS A SLAYER

Worcester, March 18.—Probably the first case in this county in which a man charged with murder has been admitted to bail is that of Stephen Toregian, charged with the murder of Zilpho Zilpho, who he is said to have shot in a Turkish bath here. Judge Utley in the lower court fixed the bonds.

PROF. WARD IS ACCUSED AS 'RADICAL'

Methodists Stirred by Pro-Bolshevist Position; Must Stand Trial

"The Methodist church, taken as a whole, is strongly opposed to Professor Ward and will not follow him in his socialistic propaganda," today declared Rev. L. J. Birney, dean of the Boston University School of Theology upon learning that Dr. Harry F. Ward, formerly professor of Christian ethics at the Boston University School of Theology, was to be asked to defend his pro-Bolshevist position before the Methodist preachers' meeting in New York on Monday.

Dr. Ward's alleged pro-Bolshevik tendencies have caused a split in Methodist circles. On Monday he will be asked to face charges before the New York Ministers' Association.

The Methodist Federation for Social Service, of which Dr. Ward is the recognized head, is divided on the Bolshevik question, but by far the larger number of ministers are against what they call "a gigantic conspiracy against the peace of the world."

SPECIAL AID GRATEFUL FOR CONTRIBUTIONS

The Special Aid Society wishes to acknowledge the following contributions to Wendell House for enlisted men and non-commissioned officers: Mrs. A. G. Williams, $10; South Weymouth Branch, $31.30; Mrs. G. L. De Blois, $35; Allerton Branch, $10; A Friend, $4.40; Melrose Branch, $7.50; Worcester Branch, $25; Mrs. C. S. Minot, $400; Fall River Branch, $25; total, $548.20.

The society wishes to acknowledge also the following donations to the Officers' House at No. 39 State road: Marblehead Branch, $25; Quincy Branch, $10; Hanover Branch, $10; Melrose Branch, $7.50; Fall River Branch, $25; total, $77.50.

The society also acknowledges $50 from Mrs. C. S. Minot towards its general fund and $100 from the West Roxbury Branch in response to the appeal for Serbia.

GIRL HELD ON TWO CHARGES OF LARCENY

While two officers from Providence, R. I., waited to take her to that city, Rosalind McGee, charged with larceny of $100 from a Boston department store, appeared in court today and had her case continued until Friday. The girl is wanted in Providence on a charge of larceny of $500. She agreed to waive extradition, but a disagreement arose between court officials as to disposal of the case. She is still held in $3,000 bonds. The girl is said to have forged a letter of recommendation on hotel stationery to obtain a position as cashier with the Boston firm; and to have remained only long enough to steal the money in question.

ASK FUND TO BUILD HOSPITAL AT RHEIMS

Subscriptions are now in order for the hospital to be built in the Rheims district for the people of France, which the American Fund for French Wounded is planning to endow. The New England branch has pledged to give $40,000, and the city of Worcester has already raised $10,000 of this fund, besides $12,000 for the endowment of two Worcester beds.

The New England branch announces the shipment to France from its Boston headquarters of 26,304 garments, over 5,000 pairs of socks, over 6,000 towels, over 1,000 bed pillows and pillow slips, more than 1,400 sheets, blankets, quilts and afghans and over 30,000 miscellaneous articles, including layettes and mothers' supplies.

JOEL F. PARMENTER OF MAYNARD DEAD AT 88

Maynard, March 18.—Joel F. Parmenter, Maynard's oldest male resident, is dead at the age of eighty-eight years. He was born in Sudbury, June 19, 1830, and had lived in Maynard since 1871, serving the town in nearly every office from selectman to road commissioner. He leaves four sons, Daniel and Richard Parmenter of Maynard, and Harry and Willis Parmenter of Worcester, and a brother, John W. Parmenter of Orange. A grandson, Joel F. Parmenter of D Company, 104th Infantry, was wounded in action in France.

AUTO BANDITS SHOOT POLICEMAN AND FLEE

Stamford, Ct., March 18.—A posse of policemen is scouring Bedford Hills, N. Y., today in search of four alleged automobile bandits who shot and seriously wounded Policeman Hugh Grogan here early today and then shot up the village of Rye, N. Y., Greenwich, Ct., and fired a second salvo of shots here before escaping toward Bedford. Grogan, a motorcycle policeman, followed the men, who were in a large touring car, to Shippan Point. Cornered there they opened fire on him.

FORE RIVER MAN FINED FOR ATTACK ON JANITOR

Charged with assault and battery on Eugene L. Folger, a janitor at the Fore' River dormitories at Quincy Point, William J. Kiely, aged thirty-one, was fined $25 in the Quincy District Court by Judge Avery. Sentence was suspended until April 1.

'Twas a Grand Day, but What's the 17th if You Don't Parade!

"'Twas a fine St. Patrick's Day, Dinnie, was it not?"

"It were that," smiled Dinnie.

The speakers were two retired Irish laborers who met at the Brighton Hotel today for a nip of coffee. Dressed in the faded black Sunday clothes, their faces decked with the typical gray fringe of whiskers, they began to talk over the news of the day—a day that had moved so swiftly it had left them a trifle behind in the running.

"Yes, 'twas a fine day," repeated the first speaker. "Rain and snow and the Irish Charitable meeting and the gathering in South Boston—everything but the parade."

AND EDDIE LOGAN AWAY.

"Sure and how could they," asked the first speaker, evidently one who kept posted through the newspapers. "How could they parade with Eddie Logan and all the boys of the Fighting Ninth over across watching the Germans. There's none of 'em back yet but General Edwards and sure he couldn't parade alone."

"But where was the Mayor?" asked Dinnie, unable to understand how Boston could celebrate a St. Patrick's Day without a parade.

"Well, Curley and Fitzgerald are out these days," explained the better informed of the two, "and Andy Peters is Mayor."

"Ain't he one of us?" asked Dinnie.

"Well, he is and he isn't," said the first speaker, whose named it later developed was Michael.

"Of course, he's a Democrat," he went on. "But he never marched much with the boys on St. Patrick's Day.

"It wasn't like that in the old days when John H. ran old Ward 25," remarked Dinnie. (John H. referred to is John H. Lee, the former Democratic ward leader in Ward 25.)

"No, nor when Fitzy was at City Hall," added Michael.

MARTIN WAS THERE.

"What's this I hear about Fitzgerald and Tague down at the Postoffice Building?" asked Dinnie.

"It's a little trouble they're having over the election to Congress in the old Tenth District," explained Michael, who had evidently spent one day at the recent hearing, which was adjourned until Friday.

"I heard my boy telling the other night at supper about Martin Lomasney," said Dinnie. "Was Martin in it too?"

"Yes, Martin and Joey O'Connell and Johnnie Feeney that used to be Mayor of Woburn and a lot of the boys are in it," explained Michael.

"What's it all about?" asked Dinnie.

"Well, it's like this," said Michael. "Peter Tague and Johnnie Fitz ran for Congress. All depended on Martin's ward. Martin swung the ward for Fitzy and now Peter Tague claims Martin had a lot of the boys sleeping in the ward last May so they could vote on election day.

"Oh, repeaters, you mean," said Dinnie.

"That's what we used to call them in the old days," said Michael, "but Martin called them 'mattress voters' the other day at the hearing."

"Did he name any of them?" queried Dinnie.

"He did that," smiled Michael. "He said Joe O'Connell, the ex-Congressman, was one himself."

"And was Fitzie there?" asked Dinnie.

"Not at that time," replied Michael. "He were just back from Palm Beach after leaving a lot of New York millionaires and didn't come to the hearing until later."

SUCH HARD NAMES.

"They say Martin was in fine form," remarked Dinnie.

"Well," Michael weighed his words. "He were almost as good as the Sunday afternoon I heard him at the Hendricks Club."

"And what did he have to say?" asked Dinnie anxiously.

"Not much," Michael vouchsafed knowingly. "He called John A. Sullivan, who used to be Jimmie Curley's corporation counsel, and Peter Tague and some more of the boys some bad names."

"Did they ask him outside?" asked Dinnie, thinking of the old days and the way things used to be settled.

"Well, no," said Michael hating to disappoint his listener.

"You see it was in the Federal building they were, not in the ward room."

"Well," philosophized Dinnie, 'maybe 'twas just as well.

"Yes, I thought there would be some fun there for a minute," explained Michael. "Senator John I. Fitzgerald called somebody a German spy.

"And who was it?" asked Dinnie.

"He didn't say, but Dannie O'Connell jumped up and they were about to mix it when Martion stepped in and separated them.

"Who's Dannie O'Connell?" said Dinnie.

"One of the O'Connell boys," said Michael. "He was a captain in the war.

"Was he with the Ninth," asked Dinnie.

"No," said Michael, "he wasn't lucky. He went down to Washington as field agent in the Ordnance Department. He used to be Fitzy's secretary at City Hall, and some of the boys were expecting he'd tell his brother, Peter's lawyer, some of the things he may have seen under Fitzy."

GOV. CALVIN WITH US.

"D'ye supose he'd go as far as that," wondered Dinnie.

"Well, he might," said Michael, "and then again he mightn't. The boys use some harsh words among themselves, once in a while, but sure it's politics. And what's politics without a fight?"

"Well," said Dinnie, getting up to go, "'twere a fine St. Patrick's Day anyway."

"It were that," said Michael. "Even Governor Coolidge said last night at the Irish Charitable banquet that he was with us."

WED TO ESCAPE DEPORTATION; ASKS DIVORCE

Pretty Blonde Immigrant Grateful to Peter, but Says He Was Cruel

Paula F. Railing, a pretty blonde Danish girl, working as a masseuse for the government in the Walter Reid Construction Hospital, in Washington, told Judge Hall in Superior Court today that only the fact that Peter C. Railing volunteered to marry her when she was detained at Ellis Island, on coming to this country, saved her from deportation. Today she asked for an uncontested divorce from Peter.

When she came from Denmark, in 1911, on the Lusitania, she expected that her aunts would meet her at New York. They failed to do so, and the authorities would not allow the pretty nineteen-year-old girl to land and sent her to Ellis Island. It was then that she telephoned to Peter, and he saved the day.

She lived with him from June, 1911, until November 30, 1911. "He kicked me out of the house," she explained. She gave him another trial in March, 1912, but remained only a few weeks, because he "kicked her out again."

The girl told the court that she had made Massachusetts her residence for about five years.

Bertha B. Joliffe, employed in the Waltham Watch factory, asked for an uncontested divorce from her husband, William C., on the grounds of cruel and abusive treatment. They were married in January, 1913. "He kicked and choked me," she said.

IRISH FLAG IS FLOWN DESPITE OPPOSITION

Pittsfield, March 18.—The Irish flag flew from the flagpole of the High School building as it has on St. Patrick's Day for years past, despite the fact that the police kept a patrol about the building to prevent a St. Patrick's Eve flag-raising.

WOMAN SUES FOR FALL IN PROVIDENCE HOTEL

Providence, March 18.—Mrs. Georgie Whitten of New York has brought suit for $15,000 against the Crown Hotel for injuries received when she fell down the front steps of the hostelry. She claims that the fall was due to nearness of the edge of the platform of the revolving doors to the top step of the flight. The accident occurred on July 8, 1918.

BERLIN TALKS MOSTLY OF U. S. FOOD SUPPLIES

By H. J. GREENWALL.

Exclusive Cable by the International News Service and the London Daily Express.

Berlin, March 17, via London, March 18. — The incoming food from the United States is the leading topic of the newspapers and among the people. It is not being received in a thankful spirit, however. The people still maintain a domineering attitude.

Grape-Nuts

A Specialized Cereal Food
Builder of Body & Brain

This well planned combination of the best parts of wheat & barley has a delightfully sweet & nut-like flavor.

But the chief reason why you should use Grape-Nuts is for its "building" worth—its real value as a constructor of body tissues for young & old.

"BIG CHANCE" ABOUNDS IN COMEDY

By FRED J. McISAAC.

Despite its modern theme—regeneration through the fire of the great war—"The Big Chance," which A. H. Woods is presenting at the Majestic Theatre with Mary Nash as the star, is an old-fashioned comedy-drama, constructed like "Soudan," "Shenandoah" and "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Don't construe this as a reflection upon "The Big Chance." It's just a classification and an explanation. It demonstrates why you can laugh heartily for most of an evening, squeeze a few tears in the sad moments, jump when the guns go off, be shocked when the leading lady say "Damn," and still not be lost in admiration of the play.

There are some very fine characterizations in "The Big Chance," and the acting from start to finish is way above par. The fun flashes steadily from the beginning to the end and the amusing characters and the truly delightful lines more than make up for the highly melodramatic narrative and the rather lopsided ethics of the drama.

Mary Delano, played by Mary Nash, is a very superior mill girl. Having made a youthful false step she doesn't feel that she can marry Charlie Hickson, the nephew of the owner of the mill, but, as she loves him dearly, she consents to live with him in a boarding house in New York city.

The boarding house is run by Mrs. Malloy, a fat and jovial Irishwoman of a type we haven't seen much of since the decay of old fashioned melodrama. This role was very effectively played by Anna Mack Berlein (Lord knows where she got that last name). Mrs. Malloy perceives Mary's nobility of soul, so she excuses her manner of living and chums with her, as it were, also permitting her daughter, a pretty, but empty headed little flirt, most intelligently characterized by Katherine Harris Barrymore, to drift about Mary's apartment.

Charlie, the object of Mary's affections, has three friends, Larry, an Irish remittance man; Pinkey, a chicken chasing millionaire, and Eddie, a crap shooter and embryo bookmaker. All four are open admirers of Mary. A pretty little beer party is interrupted by the arrival of Charlie's uncle and a plain clothes man who nip the young gentleman for forging a check.

During Charlie's incarceration Mary remains steadfast, manages his three friends and keeps the apartment by painting china, which is quite an achievement, as anybody who has ever painted china for a living knows.

Meantime the war breaks upon the land, and Mary sees in it a scheme of Providence's to regenerate all the outcasts and misfits in the world. Her eloquence persuades all three of her hangers-on to enlist, and when Charlie emerges from the "quod" she marches him straight to a recruiting sergeant.

The final act occurs in a regimental dugout at the front. It is a very clever piece of stagecraft, one of the best pieces of war atmosphere ever put upon the stage.

Mary is now a Red Cross nurse, and Charlie is about to go over the top. She waits in the dugout until the report of the charge is telephoned in. He has fallen heroically attacking a German trench. We assume, as the curtain falls, that Mary will eventually find consolation from Larry, who has stood nobly by her from the beginning. We hope so. He was worth eight Charlies, even if he did tackle that trench.

Miss Nash's role is a very difficult one. Beginning as a rough diamond, Mary could very easily become priggish as the play proceeds in less careful hands. I thought she did remarkably well with a remarkable role. William J. Kelly as Larry was manly and fun loving with a fine Irish burr on his tongue and a twinkle in his eye. William E. Meehan as Eddie, the crap shooter, supplied most of the laughs by his original methods and fat lines.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

GEORGIA HAMILTON.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by all the large Boston Drug Stores and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes: "Bitro-Phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so well."

CAUTION—Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.

TELLS HOW HE GOT RID OF HIS CORNS

Well-Known Man Relates Remarkable Experience

"By George! I never saw anything like the effect of that new treatment Ice-Mint, for removing corns and bringing quick relief to tired, swollen, aching, burning feet. It acted like a miracle in my case," said a well-known man yesterday, in speaking of this discovery which has caused such a big stir among Foot Specialists. "I had carried a pet corn for years that simply took all the joy out of life. I tried plasters, salves, ether compounds and all of the other 'dope' that is supposed to do the trick, but the pestering thing simply would not leave me. I began to think there was nothing on earth that would kill my corn, when I finally read about the remarkable results obtained by foot sufferers from the use of Ice-Mint. I decided to try it for myself and before I hardly realized it my corn came out—root and all—and without causing the least pain or soreness. Believe me, it seems mighty good not to be afraid some one is going to hit my pet corn—and the relief—well, that just seems like Paradise."

Ice-Mint is a pure, snow-white, creamy preparation made from a genuine Japanese product and is highly appreciated by women who wear high heel shoes and by men who stand on their feet all day. It draws the inflammation out of swollen, tired or burning feet and loosens hard or soft corns so they can easily be lifted out with the fingers—root and all; besides it imparts such a delightful, cooling, soothing sensation that you will just sigh with relief. It is selling like "Wild Fire" here. Try it. Just ask in any drug store for a little Ice-Mint and give your poor, suffering, tired, aching feet the treat of their lives.

There is nothing better, or nothing just as good.

NAZIMOVA FILMED IN A DUAL ROLE

Nazimova, as seen by an American artist in her thrilling film drama, "Out of the Fog," being presented this week at the Boston Theatre. The scenes of the play were photographed at the famous Eastern Point light at Gloucester.

WALDRON'S CASINO—Those who enjoy a good laugh have the opportunity this week, with James E. Cooper's Roseland Girls at Waldron's Casino. Billy K. Wells, who has the unusual faculty of turning out burlesque material that is genuinely funny, has worked out two superior vehicles for this production in "Putting It Over" and "A Whirl of the Golden West."

TREMONT TEMPLE—"The Heart of Humanity" began the second week of the engagement at the Tremont Temple with two large crowds attending, a custom which has prevailed since the spectacle was first unfolded to Boston audiences last Monday. For swift moving story fluxing the emotions of the spectators with succession of powerful scenes in climactic sequence, this photoplay must take front rank with other mammoth screen productions. The story has the war for a background.

GAYETY THEATRE—With Harry K. Morton as the lead there is sure to be speed in any burlesque show. He is fast in his fun and acrobatics and when he came to Boston yesterday with the "Burlesque Review," a Jacobs and Jermon production at the Gayety Theatre, he and his fellow workers pleased a large audience. His co-star is the clever Zella Russell and behind them an organization of snappy and amusing comedians, singers and dancers. The show has a generous offering of song numbers and these have all been well staged.

WALDORF THEATRE OPENS WITH GOOD PROGRAM

With many attendant incidents to contribute to the celebration of the opening of a new Boston theatre, the new Waldorf Theatre was presented to the public last evening.

This theatre is situated on Tremont street, near Berkeley, on the site of the old Cyclorama building, and with the distribution of the car service in that locality, it is situated conveniently for many thousands of theatregoers.

The owners of the new Waldorf are the Waldorf Amusement Corporation, and this forms a link in a chain of proposed theatres to present the same class of bills, combined programs of vaudeville and motion picture subjects, and there have already been opened theatres in Waltham and Lynn.

Addresses were made last night by various dignitaries, and as a special attraction Captain H. D. Cormerais of the 101st gave a graphic and intensely realistic description of the fighting of the 26th Division in France.

The show itself was fitting in quality to the bigness of the occasion, and included five vaudeville acts. Heading these was Maurice Samuels and company in a new edition of "A Day at Ellis Island," a character comedy embracing in addition to the excellent humor of the situations some artistic violin playing.

ORPHEUM THEATRE—An all star bill of vaudeville, coupled with an admirable photoplay program, provided ideal entertainment at Loew's Orpheum Theatre yesterday. Prominent on the bill were Brady & Mahoney, in a submarine satire, "The Cruise of the Doughnut;" Martin & Claire, in unique and spectacular dance exhibitions; Arthur Pickens and company in a one-act farce, "Their Wedding Day;" Marston & Manley, in comedy and songs of the eccentric order; Arthur & Emma Cody in a series of dances; and O. K. Legal, silent comedian. On the screen were shown the latest News Pictures, a new comedy, and the photoplay, "Partners Three," picturing Enid Bennett in a charming role.

Plays That Remain

WILBUR THEATRE — Before another delighted audience William Collier and his excellent company appeared at the Wilbur Theatre last night, beginning the second successful week of "Nothing But Lies."

SHUBERT THEATRE — "Take It From Me," which has kept the Shubert Theatre well filled with delighted audiences for over a month, started on its last two weeks last evening. A special feature introduced for these concluding weeks is the Gardiner Trio.

COLONIAL THEATRE—Fred Stone in "Jack O' Lantern" began the thirteenth week at the Colonial Theatre last evening with a house that was filled in every seat. The presence of numerous visitors in the city for automobile week was the cause of many disappointments among those who had relied upon being in attendance, and by the present outlook the week will see many repetitions.

TREMONT THEATRE—Lou Tellegen in "Blind Youth" began his last week at the Tremont Theatre last evening. This comedy drama written by Willard Mack and Mr. Tellegen has found unbounded favor with local theatregoers.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Last evening at the Hollis Street Theatre George Arliss began the second week of his engagement in Hubert Henry Davies' "The Mollusc" and J. M. Barrie's "A Well Remembered Voice."

Coming Events

PLYMOUTH THEATRE—Following the engagement of William Hodge, George Broadhurst on Monday, March 24, will bring to the Plymouth Theatre the successful farce, "She Walked in Her Sleep," after its prosperous season in New York. Mark Swan, remembered as having a hand in the making of "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," is the author of this new farce that tickled the risibilities of New York audiences for so long a time.

The excellent company which employs the services of Isabel Irving, Helene Lackaye, Eva Williams, Leila Frost, Marjorie Davis, Robert Ober, Arthur Aylesworth, Walter Walker, Arthur Delord and Joseph Creban immediately recommends itself as a fine assemblage of real farceurs.

SHUBERT THEATRE—Word comes from Elliott, Comstock and Gest, leading musical comedy producers, that they will send their newest success, "Oh, Look!" to the Shubert Theatre for a limited engagement beginning March 31, with the famous Dolly Sisters, the inimitable Harry Fox and the entire original cast, chorus and production.

TREMONT THEATRE—"The Rainbow Girl" will begin a three weeks' engagement at the Tremont Theatre beginning next Monday, March 24. "The Rainbow Girl" is a light musical comedy with a plot, a coterie of principals and a girl chorus, said to be the most beautiful in the world, with brilliant costuming and scenery by Urban.

CENTRAL SQUARE THEATRE—It has been many years since Cambridge has had a first night performance approaching in brilliance last night's gala opening of Gordon's new Central Square Theatre. This theatre represents the experience of a generation of successful theatre operation and an investment of hundreds of thousands of dollars, and naturally attractions were secured whose excellence is quite in accord with that of the theatre. The genius of Rex Beach never was more compellingly demonstrated than in "The Brand," the feature picture, and the remainder of the program of pictures and vaudeville was of striking excellence. A notable feature was the appearance of Miss Christine Galbrath and fifteen clever pupils, who sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

NAZIMOVA IN "OUT OF THE FOG" AT BOSTON

Special interest is attached to the latest Nazimova photoplay "Out of the Fog" because it was filmed right near Boston at Gloucester and Eastern Point. It was presented last evening at the Boston Theatre.

All the local color for the atmosphere of "Out of the Fog" was found in and around the Massachusetts fish city and the use of the lighthouse at Eastern Point made possible the very remarkable scenes of life among the light keepers.

"Out of the Fog" is based upon the stage play, "Ception Shoals," by H. Austin Adams, in which Nazimova appeared in the spoken drama. The feature of the play is the star plays a dual role, that of mother and a daughter. The screen arrangement was made by June Mathis and Albert Capellani. Maxwell Karger directed the filming.

The story of a young girl made a prisoner because of the sin of her mother by a fanatic grandfather is one of the most pathetic and unusual ever filmed. How love swam the waves, climed the rocks and forced its way into the desolate lighthouse makes a most absorbing tale.

SIRENS HEAD BILL AT KEITH'S THEATRE

As usual, Frank Dobson is as full of "pep" as he ever was. He, with his "sirens," are the headliners at Keith's Theatre this week. It's just one continuous uproar when Frank takes the boards. And pretty girls, with pretty costumes—like he himself—full of "pep."

Larry Reilly and his company of Celtic players, in a playlet called "The Minstrel of Kerry," has a gem. Its beautiful color and stage effects are superb. And the melodies the company sings bring one's thoughts back to the land across the sea.

Josie Heather, with William Casey and Bobbie Heather, render a mighty pleasing series of songs in a pleasing way. Little Bobbie is a surprise, for we all surely thought it was a boy.

Le Maire, Hayes & Company deliver a colored sailor act that is different from the usual in its line. It is a scream. They are billed as the American Aces of Spades.

Raymond Wilbert has a series of hoop stunts that he puts over in a dandy manner. Stella Tracy and Carl McBride offer their own exclusive material in the lines of song and jokes. Ben Bernie, with his violin and bag of new jokes did well. Three Daring Sisters in an aerial act put over the thrill of the evening. The weekly review of events was shown first and had many topics of interest.

FENWAY THEATRE—The bill consisted of Rex Beach's "The Brand" and "Sis Hopkins" featuring Miss Mabel Norman. Both pictures will continue to attract Back Bay people today and tomorrow.

LATEST FILMS SHOWN IN HOME TOWN

BRIGHTON THEATRE, BRIGHTON—Tuesday and Wednesday Harry Morey in "The King of Diamonds" and the "Lure of the Circus"; a comedy and a weekly picture will complete the bill. On Thursday will be shown "Lawless Love," with Jewel Carmen, and the "Mystery Ship," in the third episode, and others.

FRANKLIN PARK THEATRE, DORCHESTER—The story of the great victory, "Wilson or the Kaiser," the photoplay written for the welcome of our homecoming troops, is the feature the first half of this week. There will be an excellent bill of vaudeville, presenting the best in comedy, singing and talking, and the comedy picture.

BROADWAY THEATRE, EVERETT—Wednesday and Thursday will be seen Dorothy Dalton in "Hard Boiled," Madge Kennedy in "Day Dreams" and the World Kinogram and others. The bill for Friday and Saturday includes Wallace Reid in his new picture, "Alias Mike Moran," Carlyle Blackwell in "Courage for Two" and the latest Sennett comedy, "The Village Smithy."

FELLSWAY THEATRE, MEDFORD—The Fellsway offers Clara Kimball Young in "The House of Glass," Fatty Arbuckle in "The Aviator," Pearl White in the fifth episode of "The Lightning Raider" and "The Last of the Incas," an educational subject.

MEDFORD THEATRE, MEDFORD — The leading feature for Wednesday and Thursday will be Sessue Hayakawa in "Bonds of Honor" and Dorothy Gish in "Boots." Other new pictures will make this program an exceptionally good one.

DUDLEY THEATRE, ROXBURY—The feature photoplay at the Dudley for the first half of the week is "False Faces," with Henry Walthall as the star, and Vivian Martin in "You Never Saw Such a Girl." For the last half, commencing Thursday, a triple feature bill is scheduled, with Charles Ray in "The Girl Dodger," Pauline Frederick in "Paid in Full" and Charlie Chaplin in "A Night in a Show" as the attractions.

EAGLE THEATRE, ROXBURY—Roxbury's popular photoplay theatre is showing a pleasing and interesting three-feature bill on Wednesday and Thursday. Popular Peggy Hyland in "The Girl of No Regrets," a Fox drama, and Gladys Leslie in "Fortune's Child," besides a big V comedy, Pathe News and other pictures.

SHAWMUT THEATRE, ROXBURY—Will show William Fox's newest production, "The Girl with No Regrets." Famous Players offer Lina Cavalieri in "Two Brides" and the big bunch of joy, Fatty Arbuckle, in "Love." Don't fail to see Fatty propose.

RIALTO THEATRE, BROCKTON—Offers for today and tomorrow W. S. Hart in "The Poppy Girl's Husband" and other pictures, and for the last half of the week Florence Reed in "Wives of Men" and others.

STRAND THEATRE, BROCKTON—Offers today and tomorrow Gladys Brockwell in "Forbidden Room" and feature vaudeville. There will be shown other pictures on the same bill. The feature for the last half of the week will be Lina Cavalieri in "Two Brides" and feature vaudeville.

CITY THEATRE, BROCKTON—Will show a double feature for the next five days in Nazimova in "Eye for an Eye" and Mary Pickford in "Rags." Other pictures will be shown on the same bill and for Saturday only will be seen Gladys Brockwell in "Forbidden Room" and four acts of vaudeville.

HYDE PARK THEATRE, HYDE PARK—Wednesday and Thursday the leading feature will be Virginia Pearson in "Buchanan's Wife," from the novel by Justus Miles Forman, a heart-hungry woman's fight for love and happiness. On the same bill will be shown other pictures and a one-act vaudeville.

ORIENT GARDENS, ORIENT HEIGHTS AND CONGRESS HALL, SOUTH BOSTON—Will show all this week at each house an all-star cast feature, a comedy and a weekly picture. Don't fail to see this wonderful show of first-run pictures in these two houses.

OLYMPIA THEATRE, SOMERVILLE—Will offer Wednesday and Thursday Alice Joyce in "The Lion and the Mouse" and other new star pictures.

WAKEFIELD THEATRE, WAKEFIELD—Offers all this week an all-star cast feature; also a comedy and a weekly picture that will make this bill an exceptionally good one.

GORMAN'S THEATRE, ROSLINDALE—All this week a new all-star feature and a comedy and weekly picture that will make it worth while going to see. Seats now can be reserved for advance shows.

STRAND THEATRE, UPHAM'S CORNER, DORCHESTER—Will show for the last half of the week William Farnum in "The Man Hunter" and Pauline Frederick in "Woman on the Index," the new Paramount picture.

OWL THEATRE, LOWELL—Thursday, Friday and Saturday will show "When Men Betray" and "Silent Strength," a comedy and others. Madeline Boland in novelty songs.

MARLBOROUGH THEATRE, MARLBORO—Wednesday and Thursday the program will be headed with an all-star cast, "The Common Cause," Big V comedy, "Football and Frauds" and other pictures.

GLOBE THEATRE—The photoplay program presented yesterday at Loew's Globe Theatre was of such all-round excellence that it afforded the extreme of pleasure to every spectator. Norma Talmadge was shown in "The Probation Wife," an engrossing story of a young society woman whose venture into marital life is beset with strange circumstances which she combats effectively. The other photoplay showed Montagu Love in "The Hand Invisible."

To Fortify the System Against Grip take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets which destroy germs, act as a Tonic and Laxative, and thus prevent Colds, Grip and Influenza. There is only one "BROMO QUININE." E. W. GROVE'S signature on the box. 30c.—Advt.

DRAMA PROVES POPULAR AT ARLINGTON

Actors and actresses come and go at the Arlington Theatre, but Stage Director W. C. Masson remains with his care for details, his insistence upon letter perfect performances and thorough-going team play.

"The Butterfly on the Wheel," a four-act drama by Edward G. M. Hemmerde and Francis Neilson, M. P., brought forth a group of new faces, while a half-dozen former favorites seemed to be missing.

The play reaches its climax in a court room after the true English type with periwigs and barristers' gowns. Here judge, jury, advocates, witnesses and visitors give an atmosphere of realism which reproduces, with all its tragic association, the divorce court of England.

Ruth Robinson, as Mrs. George Admaston, rose to the court room scene and to the witness stand with sincerity and power. Her final collapse and fainting came after a superb exhibition of emotional acting.

A touch of humor was added to this scene by a striking make-up and characterization of the judge, Sir John Burroughs, by Mark Kent.

Morton L. Stevens, as leading counsel for Sir Robert Fyfee, was sufficiently legal in his aspect and in his cross-examination, and filled well the position held for him.

Frequent applause and laughter for Aubrey Bosworth as Lord Allardine, the diplomat, was merited, and he is to be congratulated for his remarkable performance of a silly English lord who finds thinking extremely difficult.

The play, while not especially strong, will undoubtedly prove to be a great success for the box office.

Next week "Glittering Gloria."

MODERN AND BEACON THEATRES—William S. Hart was shown in his new photoplay, "The Poppy Girl's Husband," at the Modern and Beacon Theatres yesterday as one of the two first run photoplays to run throughout the week. The story concerns the adventures of Boston Blackie of the San Francisco underworld who is sent to the penitentiary. Upon his release he seeks revenge upon those who sent him there, which pursuit is prosecuted with grimmest intensity. It is all strong drama with the star in a different role than he has hitherto been seen upon the screen and it must stand as one of his best.

LANCASTER THEATRE—A varied and pleasure giving bill of photoplays was offered yesterday at the Lancaster Theatre. Jane & Katherine Lee, the precocious child actors of the screen, were shown in "Smiles," and the title proved no misnomer as the story was unrolled. The cleverness of the children was matched by the ingenuousness of the story, and that comedy ran paramount was a value giving property much appreciated. The other photoplay showed Harold Lockwood in "The Great Romance."

STAGE STARS TO APPEAR AT ELKS' BENEFIT

Mary Nash, the popular and beloved star of "The Big Chance" Company, together with other celebrated stage people, including those from the "Jack O'Lantern" Company, "Take It From Me" Company, "Adam and Eva" Company, the Billy Van and "Rainbow Girl" Company, "She Walked in Her Sleep" Company, George Arliss Company and stellar attractions from Keith's, Boston and Orpheum theatres, will comprise the tremendous bill that will be presented by the Elks Theatrical at the Colonial Theatre on next Tuesday afternoon, March 25.

COLUMBIA THEATRE — Another week of daily changes of programs started yesterday at Loew's Columbia Theatre. Each day's bill includes two long photoplays of recent releases, the news pictures and comedies, thus providing a program which makes this theatre a most attractive resort.

NAME DALEY ASSISTANT CLERK AT LAWRENCE

Lawrence, March 18.—John J. Daley, for fifteen years clerk at the St. Mary's parish office, has been named assistant city clerk of this city by Mayor Hurley. The appointment was the result of complications, a previous appointee, John P. O'Reilley, prominent banking man, having been side-tracked. Mr. O'Reilley conferred with Mayor Hurley and afterwards announced that he did not care to take the city position.

CORMIER, FITCHBURG HERO, REJOINS ARMY ON RHINE

Fitchburg, March 18.—Private Edward F. Cormier of this city, holder of the Croix de Guerre, has been discharged from the hospital and has rejoined his unit, C Company, 26th Infantry, with the Army of Occupation in Germany, according to a letter received by his mother, Mrs. Antoine Cormier, No. 471 Water street. He says he was badly wounded. He thinks he will be home by Christmas.

GAS CONSUMERS FIGHT 'UNJUST' CHARGES

Appeal to Mayor in Vigorous Protest at Increasing Bills

Payment under protest and refusal to pay mark the attitude of the Greater Boston public toward increased bills rendered by the Boston Consolidated Gas Company. Every mail brings fresh cases of alleged overcharge to the attention of the American, while many indignant consumers have called personally at the editorial rooms to register their complaints.

Mrs. Bessie Waldman, No. 70 Maywood street, Roxbury, has taken the initiative in the fight of the consumers against alleged overcharging by the gas company. Mrs. Waldman has sent the following letter to Mayor Peters, accompanied by half a hundred names of petitioners:

PLAN CONSUMERS' LEAGUE.

"We respectfully call your attention to recent articles in the Boston American regarding the exorbitant and outrageous overcharges of gas bills in which glaring inconsistency is inexplicable.

"We earnestly appeal to you in behalf of the people of Boston to give us your noble support in this just cause. We respectfully ask you to grant us permission to use one of the public buildings in order to call a mass meeting to determine what steps should be taken to alleviate the existing conditions which are appaling and overwhelming and which grow so more and more daily."

A neighborhood meeting will be held Wednesday night at her home, Mrs. Waldman told the American, when plans for the formation of a gas consumers' league will be discussed.

FROM $7.50 TO $16.65.

That she has been unlawfully overcharged for gas is the complaint of Mrs. Patrick Clinton of No. 68 Union street, Brighton.

"I have a four-room apartment and a small two-burner gas stove which I use only in the morning getting breakfast, as I use my coal range for baking," she writes the American.

"Of the lights in the four rooms the kitchen is the only one I burn steadily for about five hours each night.

"My bills never reached any more than $2.50 to $2.75 at the highest. For the month of August I received a bill for $4.32. I made a complaint about it. I was told to wait until next month as the meter may have been overread, and if it was it would show up the next month. I did, and to my surprise my next bill, for September, was $16.65.

"I reported it again and they told me they would examine the meter. They did and replaced a new one. A week later I received a notice stating that my old meter was O. K.

"I refused to pay those two high bills and I was notified in December I would be charged 10 cents for every 1,000 cubic feet of gas unpaid for if I let the bills run, so I decided the only way was to pay rather than have any more increases on the bills.

"Since the new meter was put in my bills have returned to their usual amount."

BILLS WERE "TOO SMALL."

"I am one of the many people who have not received fair and just bills," writes Mrs. Etta Goldstein of No. 2 Milton street.

"I have paid all my bills but one for December, $9.60. That I cannot afford to pay and know that I do not owe them that much, as it is impossible.

"I went to the gas company and told them, but the only satisfaction I got was that I was told that the bills I received before were too small and that is why they raised this one to make up.

"Now, is that honest?

"I then wrote and they sent me a card explaining how to read my gas meter, but I have not paid and will not pay, as that bill is not fair and they know it. I live in a small four-room tenement, using one light in the kitchen and never use the gas for cooking or washing. My last bill I received was $2.60 for one month. That is even too much of a bill for the amount of gas I use."

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments

"Danderine" makes your hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advertisement.

STRIKERS HAVE AMPLE FUNDS; EXPERT WRITES TRUTH ABOUT LAWRENCE

The following report of the Lawrence strike, involving more than 30,000 textile operatives, was written by a special investigator sent to Lawrence by the managing editor of the American with this instruction:

"Get the truth about Lawrence. Write the facts, impartially and without bias, for the information of the readers of the American."

Here is the report. It will be noted that the rival claims of all disputant factions are presented.

Lawrence, March 18.—The strike here is costing the strikers $8,000 a week.

That will be the minimum cost. As the personal funds of the strikers are reduced to depletion, the demands upon the general fund will constantly increase.

A few of the strikers are selling their Liberty Bonds, $46 for a $50 bond. But they are scarce. The thrifty "foreign-speaking" strikers, as they are called here, are still far ahead of the bread line.

An agent of the city charity department said that not a single appeal for relief had come from any of the several thousand strikers. The strikers, themselves, have established four "soup kitchens" and two coffee houses but Mr. Cuomos, an energetic social worker and radical who has come from Boston to help in the management of these food depots, said that less than 1,000 strikers have found it necessary to avail themselves of the free food.

Last Friday they were congratulating themselves that the Boston American had forced the price of fish down to 6 cents a pound. Sea food was served in generous quantity three times that day and is the bulwark of at least one meal every other day in the week.

STRIKERS NOT IN DEBT.

Many of the papers are printing "a report" that the strikers are $12,000 in debt and that the shopkeepers are refusing them credit. That report is unfounded. The Rev. A. J. Muste denounces it as "an absolute lie." All the strike leaders agree with him.

At a meeting of the general committee last Friday announcement was made that a loan of $6,000 had been completed through a Boston bank. The check was offered to a local bank the same day. It was held for twenty-four hours and there was a feeling among the strike leaders that the bank, in collusion with the mill owners, would hold up the check in order to "starve out" the strikers over Saturday and Sunday.

At the same time, the "report" that the strikers were in arrears came into print. It was given out by a city official who seems to be out of sympathy with the strikers but pretends to be friendly. It was then $7,000. The debt had grown in the telling.

CHECK CASHED SATURDAY.

The authority for "the report" has not been stated.

Those familiar with strikes say that the propaganda of discouragement is usually liberated on Saturdays. Its projectors aim to destroy the morale of the strikers over the holiday. They count the results by the number who become "loyal workers" on Monday morning.

Press dispatches of yesterday's disorders said that "the strikers had more pickets at work this morning than at any time since the strike was called."

The check was cashed at noon Saturday. Mr. Muste said that the $6,000 "is sufficient to carry us over until next Saturday." Meanwhile other funds are expected.

As the strike enters upon its seventh week, the situation outcome hinges upon the question:

"Can the strikers hold out? Can they get enough money from outside sources?"

If they can, they may win. Orders for new business will be coming in within a month or two. It is not expected that the mill owners will turn down any opportunity for profit. They will also find it necessary to protect themselves against competition from among themselves here in Lawrence as well as from the outside.

CLEARED $13,000,000 IN 1917.

In addition, the "public sentiment" of Lawrence will gradually crystallize against the continuance of a strike which is ruining local business men bythe "absentee landlords" of a corporation which in 1917, for example, cleared net profits of $13,000,000, and which a week or two ago, during the middle of the strike, paid out a special dividend of $2,000,000.

That "public sentiment" has not crystallized yet. Only the occasional tradesman has begun to feel seriously the pangs. The strikers say that the general business interests of the city, having passed through an extraordinarily profitable period, are still rich as the bear in his Winter's hole, but that the pang of Spring hunger is relatively near at hand.

SOURCES OF SUPPORT.

If left to themselves, the mills could hold out indefinitely. Mayor Hurley was ready to appoint a mediation committee Saturday to wait upon both the mill owners and the strikers, but the mills privately informed the Mayor that "there is nothing to arbitrate." The Mayor a few minutes later heard that an old friend whose business is located in the Italian district was being forced to the wall by lack of trade, but the committee was not appointed. The strike leaders, however, were unable to find within their own ranks any reason why the mill owners should hold out renewed hopes of an early settlement.

Mr. Muste gave some of the sources of strike support. The cigarmakers of Boston are sending here $1,000 every other week. The Shirtwaist Makers' Union of Boston voted to give a day's pay, which will amount to about $6,000. It was said to be in anticipation of this fund that the $6,000 loan was negotiated last week.

The Hebrew Bakers' Union of Boston gives 2,000 loaves of bread four times a week. Machinists' Union of Boston is a regular contributor and numerous unions in the northeastern section of the country send regular donations. One of the Italian district's richest men said that he is not attempting to collect rents from his tenants at this time. Contributions from Lawrence sources would surprise the Lawrence conservatives, it is said. Although the American Federation of Labor disapproves the strike, a check for $500 was recently received from the Maynard United Textile Workers, which is John Golden's organization.

HAVE RADICAL SUPPORT.

Lawrence enemies of the strike and of radical propaganda hint that the bulk of the money is coming direct from Messrs. Lenine and Trotzky. Here is what Mr. Muste says:

"Our chief support is received from radical organizations. In Boston we have a local committee consisting of Karl I. Bennett, George Roewer, Harold Rotzel, Isaac Hamlin and Max Hamlin. The so-called intellectual radicals of Philadelphia, Baltimore and New York and generally the Northeastern States have been very generous. The Socialists have been generous contributors. Those two classes have been our main source of support. They include, of course, the radical labor organizations."

Ime Kaplan, the strike secretary, said that the foreign element was never in a better condition to start a strike.

"They are thrifty and have been saving money for the past two years," he said. "Savings bank deposits were never so large in this city. An Italian told me the day the strike started that he had eighty bags of flour in his cellar, plenty of money in the bank and that he would stay out forever. This case is typical.

DEPENDS ON AMALGAMATED.

"The foreign element was in better condition to make a strike than the English-speaking operatives. The English, French and Irish spend too much on luxuries. That is why they didn't start this strike. They didn't in 1912, either."

The action of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America will probably determine the outcome of the strike. They are said to have 250,000 members and they recently went successfully through a thirteen-weeks strike that won for them a forty-four-hour week with an increase of pay. They are said to have spent $750,000 in that strike.

If the Amalgamated throws its strength into the fight, the strikers expect that from $50,000 to $75,000 a week will be available. H. J. Rubenstein, an investigator for the Amalgamated, is said to have told the leaders that whether or not the clothing workers decide to take over the strike and organize the operatives they will give generously to the strike fund.

There is said to be a strong element in the organization which believes that the clothing trade should be organized in every branch. A local union, known as the Industrial Textile Workers of Lawrence, is now being formed by the strike committee. The first sentence of its charter says:

"Our ultimate aim is, by whatever methods of proleterian action may be most effective, to help achieve the abolition of capitalism and the system of wage slavery, and to establish the ownership and control of industry by the workers, for the workers."

A delegate reported the other day that 3,100 Italians joined the new organization last week and paid their initiation assessment.

If the Amalgamated decides to come in for the strikers the membership of the new union will be at once turned into the older and national organization.

If the Amalgamated's action is adverse, the success of the strike will be very seriously threatened.

No two persons in this city will agree on the number of operatives away from work. At high tide there are about 32,000 operatives. Here are some of the estimates as to the number idle:

Mayor Hurley—"At least 10,000."
Police Commissioner Carr—7,000.
Mr. Muste—22,000.
The mills—80 per cent. are working.
The City Clerk—15,000 are out.

There are three sources contributing to the unemployed: First, the strikers; second, those who are forced out of work; third, those who would work but for whom there is no work.

The American Woolen Company is completely tied up. There is said to be not a mill in the city which can produce a piece of goods as in normal times. That the mills are paying wages to "loyal workers" who are not "earning their salt" seems to be generally admitted.

On the other hand, the mills were on a thirty-nine and a thirty-five-hour basis when the strike started. Business was dull. The mills have other factories to which they can transfer what orders may come in, it is said. They are now engaged in preparing samples for the trade.

It is also said that the strike is without leaders. Muste and Cedric Long, two young clergymen, seem to be the brains of the movement. Kaplan is only twenty-six.

"There are no leaders," said Muste. "That is the strength of the strike. The strikers themselves are running this strike."

The city, as such, is paying $2,000 or $3,000 a week for additional policemen. You will see two tables full of them three times a day at River's Cafe. "I wish the damned mills would settle this strike and let us go home," said a six-foot, 200-pound Lynn officer. If Mayor Creamer saw him, as he was seen an hour later, throw an under-sized striker from the sidewalk to the street, he would get home quick enough.

Many have asked why the strikers do not enjoin the police and go on with their mass meetings. Mr. Muste said that if the Amalgamated comes in, it should be left free to settle questions of policy.

Observers will not fail to note that there is a strike involving 32,000 people, which has been going on more than six weeks and has been so orderly that it has found its way to the front pages of the papers but rarely.

RECORD SEASON FOR WINCHENDON HUNTERS

Winchendon, March 18.—John E. Sibley, Winchendon's veteran hunter, has made a record this season. He has taken twenty-two raccoons, securing sixteen in seven night trips. Recently on a dark night, after treeing what he supposed to be a coon and climbing a seventy-foot tree to get his capture, he found it was a large porcupine. He has recently captured a snow-white porcupine, which is extremely rare.

Mr. Sibley has captured hundreds of fur-bearing animals in his career including mink, muskrat, otters and rabbits, but he says deer are his Jonah. In three years he has not even been able to get a shot at one during the open season.

NORTHERN RAILWAY ASKS HELP FROM TOWNS

Fitchburg, March 18.—The fate of the Northern Massachusetts Street Railway is now in the hands of various committees appointed by the towns and cities which it serves, which it has asked to assist it financially. Among the places served by the road are Fitchburg, Westminster, Gardner, Templeton, Winchendon, Orange and Athol.

HARVARD DEBATE PRIZE WILL BE FRENCH MEDAL

The Comite France-Amerique has presented Harvard a gold medal to be given the successful debater in French at a competition in Sanders Theatre, May 9. The subject will be some aspect of French civilization. A representation of the head of Washington is on one side of the medal, and Washington at the siege of Boston on the other. The France-Amerique Medal Debate is to be an annual competition at Harvard.

$20,000,000 TAKEN IN TAX DRIVE SATURDAY

More than twenty million dollars were collected in this district on the last day of the "income tax drive." This amount was received Saturday by Collector of Internal Revenue John F. Malley and his assistants. This amount is two-thirds of the entire sum, $30,000,000, received from the district between February 24 and March 15. The final receipts were turned into the Federal Reserve Bank on Sunday, the bank opening for that purpose. The receipts on the first day of the collection campaign were less than $600.

How to Make a Gray Hair Remedy

Mrs. Mackie, the well known New York actress, now a grandmother, and whose hair is still dark, recently made the following statement: "Gray streaked or faded hair can be immediately turned black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following simple remedy that you can make at home:

"Merely get a box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extras to buy. Dissolve it in 4 oz. of distilled or rain water and comb it through the hair. Directions for mixing and use come in each box. One box will last you for months.

"It is safe, it does not rub off, is not sticky or greasy, and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look many years younger."—Advertisement.

Easy Home Treatment Wonderful for Feet

Aching, burning or perspiring feet mean bad temper, poor work and general unhappiness. Here is a simple remedy which any one can apply and which really works wonders—makes the feet as pain-free as a child's and keeps them that way. From any druggist get twenty-five cents worth of Cal-o-cide and use some of it in a warm foot-bath. Surprising and most gratifying results will follow immediately. If you have corns, use the little corn plasters provided with the Cal-o-cide. They work like magic.—Advertisement.

GROWING DEAF WITH HEAD NOISES? TRY THIS

If you are growing hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness or if you have roaring, rumbling, hissing noises in your ears go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Parmint (double strength), and add to it ¼ pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who is threatened with Catarrhal Deafness or who has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Advertisement.

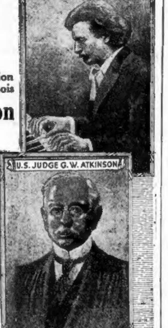
What Makes Men of Blood and Iron? Do You Know Any of These People?

Ignace Jan Paderewski, Pianist and Nation Maker
United States Judge G. W. Atkinson, Former Governor
Dr. George H. Baker, Former Hospital Physician and Surgeon
Hon. Anthony Caminetti, United States Commissioner of Immigration
Former U. S. Senator Wm. E. Mason, Now Congressman from Illinois

Read What They Say About Nuxated Iron

As a Tonic, Strength and Blood Builder



Physician Explains How it Helps Put Renewed Vim and Energy Into the Veins of the Weak, Run-down, Infirm and Aged—Often Increases Their Strength in Two Weeks' Time.

When widely known men of the highest calibre come out frankly and publicly endorse a product which they have personally found valuable for building up the health and strength, it must arouse the interest of every thinking person in Nuxated Iron, which is today being used by over three million people annually to help create red blood, power and endurance.

Dr. T. Alphonsus Wallace, a physician of many years' experience and formerly of the British Naval Medical Service, says: "It is the men of blood and iron—on a par with the war-hardened fellows returning from camp and fields—who will forge ahead in the business and political life of the country today.

"Living in the open, eating coarse foods and leading regular lives have made blood rich in iron for these strong, healthy, vigorous specimens of manhood. But no such opportunity for building up their health is open to thousands of men and women in civil life whose wearing tasks and iron-impoverished food sap their energy and vitality, make them weak, anaemic and run-down and often cause their blood to literally starve for want of iron. Without iron there can be no strong, red-blooded men or healthy, rosy-cheeked women, and unless this strength-giving iron is obtained from the foods we eat, it must be supplied in some form that is easily absorbed and assimilated. For this purpose I always recommend organic iron—Nuxated Iron—which I have used so successfully both in civil life and for convalescing soldiers that I am absolutely convinced of its effectiveness for helping to build red blood, strength and endurance."

Of great importance to the public should be the strong endorsement of Nuxated Iron as a preparation of great merit as a tonic and blood builder given by former U. S. Senator William E. Mason, who has the distinction of being one of the really big men of the nation. His championship of Pure Food and Drugs legislation, his fight for the rural free delivery system, and his strong advocacy of all bills favoring labor have made him a national figure and endeared him to the hearts of the working man and the great masses of people. Senator Mason says: "I have often said I would never recommend medicine of any kind. I believe that the doctor's place. However, after the hardest political campaign of my life, without a chance for a vacation, I had been starting to court every morning with that horrible, tired feeling one cannot describe. I was advised to try Nuxated Iron. As a pioneer in the pure food and drug legislation, I was at first loath to try an advertised remedy, but after advising with one of my medical friends, I gave it a test. The results have been so beneficial in my own case, I made up my mind to let my friends know about it, and you are at liberty to publish this statement if you so desire. I am now 65 years of age and I feel that a remedy which will build up the strength and increase the power of endurance of one at my age, should be known to the world."

Equally interesting is the opinion of Judge G. W. Atkinson of the United States Court of Claims, at Washington, who for twenty years has been in the public service as Judge, Governor, Member of Congress and U. S. District Attorney. He says: "It is without hesitation that I recommend Nuxated Iron to persons who in the stress of physical or mental labors have permitted the system to become debilitated, the body exhausted or the nerves run down. It has restored my appetite and my vitality. I feel that I have dropped off the burden of months of toil in the few weeks that I have been following the very simple directions for the use of Nuxated Iron."

Ignace Jan Paderewski, one of the greatest musical geniuses of the age, at a time when his untiring work for Poland overtaxed his strength and impaired his health, had recourse to Nuxated Iron to help rebuild his wasted forces and restore his old-time health and strength. He says: "I am using Nuxated Iron very frequently and consider it as an excellent tonic." With the strain imposed by two years of almost ceaseless work in the cause of his fatherland it is easily understood why he sought the sustaining benefit of Nuxated Iron.

Then there is United States Commissioner of Immigration Hon. Anthony Caminetti, who, despite his 64 years and a life which calls him to all parts of the country in all climates and all seasons, is today more active and alert than many a younger man would be in meeting the strain of his official duties.

Commissioner Caminetti says: "In the heat of summer, and the rigor of winter and the debilitating weeks of springtime, I have used Nuxated Iron with unvarying success and satisfaction. After weeks of busiest confinement to office duties, I find in Nuxated Iron the true tonic qualities which help bring one's physical being to that state of fitness which is the desire of every healthy minded man or woman. Nuxated Iron I recommend to whoever feels the need of a tonic restorative for debilitation, exhaustion and overwork."

In commenting upon the probability of building up a stronger race of people by increasing the supply of iron in their blood, Dr. George H. Baker, formerly Physician and Surgeon, Monmouth Memorial Hospital of New Jersey, says: "Iron is absolutely necessary to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. Refined foods and modern methods of cooking have robbed us of much of the iron which Nature intended we should receive. For supplying this deficiency and increasing the red corpuscles, I know of nothing more effective than organic iron—Nuxated Iron. From a careful examination of the formula and my own tests of Nuxated Iron, I feel convinced that it is a preparation which any physician can take himself or prescribe for his patients with the utmost confidence of obtaining highly beneficial and satisfactory results. The fact that Nuxated Iron is today being used by over three million people annually as a tonic, strength and blood-builder, is in itself an evidence of tremendous public confidence and I am convinced that if others would take Nuxated Iron when they feel weak and run-down it would help make a nation of stronger, healthier men and women."

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron which is recommended above is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron product it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed by all good druggists.

Outgrown—outloved!

The woman he had married!

Was it Clayton Spencer's fault?

SUDDENLY he felt very sorry for her—his wife—so weak, so childish, so cowardly.

Exquisite, faultless, from the lovely mask that was her face to the graceful slim-shod feet. But frivolous, insincere—the woman with whom he was to spend the rest of his life!

And Audrey, brave, generous, deeply unhappy—Audrey with her indefinite appeal to the best that was in him—every mental path, those days, somehow led to her.

Audrey, tired, terribly alone, needing him!

Where had he come? Where was he going? Clayton Spencer, strong, proud of his integrity, so fine in his impulses, what would he do?

Mary Roberts Rinehart carries you irresistibly on in this second instalment of her vivid novel of modern married life. "Dangerous Days" powerfully portrays the most absorbing problem of married life today. The wife he had outgrown! The woman of deeper understanding, who crept, fight it though they did, into his empty life. The strongest craving of his life. How would he meet it?

Read this great modern novel today in Pictorial Review. Finish it in two more instalments. Thousands are already absorbed in it.

Special to new readers

Thousands who wanted to read Pictorial Review last month found that the issue was sold out. For all these and for all others, Pictorial Review has printed a special supplement of the first instalment of Mrs. Rinehart's great novel which will be supplied free of charge by any newsdealer or mailed to you directly upon receipt of a three cent stamp to pay postage.

Marshal Foch and General Pershing

Two magnificent color portraits for framing

Also two battle pictures that make American hearts beat faster

GENERAL PERSHING

MARSHAL FOCH

MARSHAL FERDINAND FOCH! Doesn't the very name bring a thrill with it? Pictorial Review has secured the exclusive rights for this country to publish Sir William Orpen's great portrait. Unsurpassed for its delicate yet vivid coloring, this reproduction should be framed in every home. Art stores in New York are charging $6.00 for reproductions of this very picture.

GENERAL PERSHING! Pictorial Review for April also contains a splendid picture of our own undaunted soldier. This reproduction is taken from Charles S. Chapman's painting and portrays to the life the characteristic firmness, determination and leadership of this truly great General. Every American should own a copy of this splendidly painted picture.

CHATEAU-THIERRY is a name that will remain immortal forever in American history. There our marines fought and died; there they gained everlasting honor and glory. N. C. Wyeth, the noted American artist has painted a veritable masterpiece depicting the most exciting moment of the whole engagement.

THE AMERICANS straightened out the salient at St. Mihiel—do we not all remember this brilliant deed? Many of our boys who are now with us again have told us about it. Hibbard Kline makes us see it in his picture—in Pictorial Review for April. This reproduction, like the other three, is in four colors and is a conspicuous example of modern color printing.

If there is no Pictorial Review Pattern Agent or newsdealer in your town, send 20 cents for a single copy or $2.00 for a whole year's subscription to The Pictorial Review Company, 230 West 39th Street, New York City.

"Your home and children should be all the job you want!"

WHAT do you think of this? It is not easy to answer, is it? Thousands of American homes are facing this question right now. Many a wife has learned to love her job. Many have tasted the joy of earning money and do not wish to give up their outside work. And yet many soldiers want their wives to stick to housework only. Which is right? Read Montanye Perry's article on this subject in which the views of both husband and wife are set forth. It fairly bristles with interest.

FRESH HADDOCK AT AMERICAN'S STORES

Fresh haddock at five cents a pound was the offering of the Boston American cost-price fish stores to the housewives of Boston today. News of the arrival of this tempting bargain on the counters of the fish stores quickly went the rounds and the stores were crowded with eager purchasers.

The fresh haddock was delivered direct from the fishing vessels, which arrived at the fish wharves this morning, to the fish stores. Each store was assigned a plentiful supply. Today's offering of fresh-caught fish is only one of the first that will replace the frozen variety, and each store is being equipped as rapidly as possible to handle fresh fish in anticipation of the warmer days to come when frozen fish is off the market.

It is only a matter of a short time when the housewife will find all the choice varieties of freshly caught fish on sale at the American's stores.

With the introduction of this innovation, the fish profiteers will be unable to fall back on their false claim that frozen fish is not as wholesome and flavory as the freshly caught goods.

The American Stores will continue to offer this freshly caught food at cost, continuing their campaign to reveal many fish dealers as profiteers eager to gouge the public.

The rest remains with the public. It is up to housewives to patronize the American's stores if free fish is to be offered indefinitely. The marts will remain open as long as there is a consistent demand for it.

Eat more fish and buy it at the Boston American's excellently appointed stores. All kinds are offered at five and six cents a pound. It affords a means of obtaining a healthful food staple and saves the purchaser money by its reasonable price.

In the meantime tons and tons of frozen fish are being sold at the American's markets and will continue on sale until plans have been completed for the sale of freshly caught fish.

Many housewives prefer the frozen variety, but in any event all purchasers of the Americans stores' fish can rest assured that it is the best obtainable and was frozen when strictly fresh, thus much fresher than so-called recently caught fish widely advertised by unscrupulous profiteers.

Think of the wide variety offered at the American's stores, and then consider the boundless number of dishes that can be served with fish as a basis. There is a dish that can be made with fish for every meal in the week that would be accepted by epicurians, without fish growing monotonous.

Eat fish every day, not only once a day but three times a day, and watch results on the physical condition and family pocketbook. They work hand in hand where the Boston American's fish is concerned.

Read the American daily for announcements.

CITY STRIKERS WARN PRIVATE PRINT SHOPS

Protest Boston Work Being Done Outside of the Municipal Plant

Determined that the city of Boston shall not get its official printing done in private plants during the strike of the pressfeeders at the city printing plant, a committee of striking pressfeeders today attempted to stop city work in a private plant.

A committee called upon the heads of the Atlantic Printing Company at No. 201 South street and threatened to call a strike at that plant if the company did any city work.

The Atlantic Printing Company was about to start on an order sent to them by Superintendent of Printing Charles T. Lawler of the city of Boston, consisting of important official documents for the assessors.

After consulting with the committee in charge, the management of the printing company decided to go ahead with the order, as the type had been set by union men in the composing room of the city printing plant.

It is said that similar strike threats will be made by the strike committee to any other printing plants which attempt to do any city work during the strike.

The strike at the city plant includes ten men, who are asking for $24 a week instead of the $22 they now receive.

LEGAL HITCH IN TRIAL OF NINE IN HOLDUP

Challenge Right of State to Try Three of the Suspects Now Under Federal Sentence

A conflict between Federal and State authorities regarding jurisdiction will prevent the trial tomorrow of the nine men charged with assaulting Paymaster Frank R. Brown of the General Electric Company in Everett on December 20 last and robbing him of $12,000 of the company funds.

The doubt as to whether the State courts have the right to try three of the men, already under Federal sentence for another crime, may cause the case to drag for several terms, lawyers said after the announcement of postponement made today by Assistant District Attorney Harvey of Middlesex County.

The three men in question are Richard Sweeney and John Mulhall and Hugh Owens of New York, and they were arrested in New York charged with breaking into a freight car and stealing government property.

They were convicted of this. In the meantime they had been connected with the robbery and attempted murder of the General Electric paymaster, and the Federal judge who sentenced them gave them two years each in Massachusetts State Prison. Sweeney was later transferred to Concord Reformatory.

The first intimation that Judge Dubuque, sitting in Superior Criminal Court at East Cambridge, was without jurisdiction, was made by Major Thomas Walsh, attorney for Owens and Mulhall.

Major Walsh's contention, which has at least brought the proceedings to a temporary halt, is that men serving Federal sentences may not be brought before a State court, and such action by State authorities practically amounts to kidnaping.

Among the defendants is Frank "Poco" Bennett of Boston. The charges against various of the defendants include robbery, conspiracy, and assault with intent to commit murder.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to kep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Advertisement.

DANGER FOLLOWS GRIP

REBUILDING HEALTH AFTER ANY ILLNESS

Getting Well Means Gaining Strength—A Wholesome Tonic

The getting-well stage of grip, pneumonia or other illness is the most dangerous of all because the body, weakened by the disease, is wide open to attacks of other lurking germs.

That is why all the organs of the body must be kept in their best working order, not only to move out the poison left by the disease, but that the patient shall regain strength as soon as possible to avoid further attacks resulting from the poisons in the system.

As a means toward good health after any illness Father John's Medicine builds up the body because it is all pure wholesome nourishment and free from opium, morphine, chloroform or other poisonous drugs or alcohol. Father John's Medicine has had 60 years' success for colds and throat troubles, coughs and sore throats, and as a tonic and body builder.

PROVES THE TRUTH

One of the best known professional men in New York (his name will be given on request) says: "After an acute attack of typhoid pneumonia, I had a racking cough and lost twenty pounds in eleven days. I never was so completely run down in my life. I was about to go to a hospital when I began to take Father John's Medicine, which after I had taken it faithfully, restored me to sound health. I regained flesh that I had lost and have since been as well as ever in my life. I have since learned that my physician has been in the habit of prescribing Father John's Medicine in such cases."

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.—Advertisement.

HOW TO ACQUIRE HAIR BEAUTY

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist's a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich lustre and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—Advertisement.

HOLYOKE WAR VETERANS FOR BONUS

American's Fight for 6-Months' Pay for Soldiers Is Indorsed Unanimously

Veterans of the world war have joined in the Boston American's fight to secure a bonus of six months' pay for them through the petition addressed to the Secretaries of War and the Navy and which now bears the signatures of 211,000 people of New England.

The World War Veterans' Association of Holyoke has adopted resolutions indorsing the petition and asking the aid of the Boston American in having it embodied into law. The resolutions were unanimously adopted at an enthusiastic meeting. This organization is made up of soldiers, sailors and marines who had a part in the great war.

It is significant of the wide interest that is taken in the petition that, at the same time that the veterans of the world war were endorsing it, it was also being hailed with enthusiasm and approval by Boston Lodge of the Loyal Order of Moose and by the Boston Blind and Cripples' Union. The same mail which brought the notice of their endorsement also brought the signatures of 156 members of the "Take It From Me" company now playing at the Shubert Theatre.

The Soldiers' Service Bureau of the Boston American is dedicated to the purpose of doing things for the soldiers and sailors of Uncle Sam. It is for officers and men alike. Answers to questions will be published in the American daily, and many personal services will be done for the soldiers and sailors as stated below.

Address all communications to Soldiers' Service Bureau, Boston American, No. 80 Summer street, Boston.

Persons finding the discharge papers of soldiers or sailors should make every effort to return them to their owners. A discharge paper cannot be duplicated. The War Department can only issue a certificate that the discharge has been given. Frequently the owner loses his original, and would greatly appreciate its return.

Petition to the Secretary of War and Secretary of the Navy to Send Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Home with Six Months' Pay

Sign this petition, get your friends to sign it, and forward it to the Boston American, 80 Summer st., Boston, Mass.

To the Honorable Newton D. Baker, Secretary of War:

To the Honorable Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy:

The undersigned respectfully urge you to return to their homes as soon as possible the soldiers, sailors and marines who have accomplished so brilliantly every object America had in the war.

We urge, also, that you obtain the necessary authority to pay these men their military wages for six months, or for some sufficient period after their discharge from the army until they can obtain useful and remunerative employment.

We urge this as an act of simple justic by a great nation to its heroes.

(Signed)

STATE READY TO AID SOLDIERS' BONUS WORK

Governor Coolidge announced today that if the War Department would grant his request that discharged soldiers be allowed to send attested copies of their discharge papers in order to obtain the war bonus, the State would bear the work and expense of having such copies made. The Governor requested some time ago that the men be allowed to send attested copies instead of their original discharge papers, which at present the War Department requires before the men can receive the $60 war bonus.

MANHATTAN INCOME TAX OVER $250,000,000

New York, March 18.—Manhattan's initial contribution to the 1918 income tax reached between $250,000,000 and $300,000,000, it was estimated today. This represents something more than a quarter of the total tax for the borough.

ASK REED NOT TO SPEAK IN LEAGUE OPPOSITION

St. Joseph, Mo., March 18.—Hundreds of persons are said to have signed petitions just posted here asking Senator James A. Reed of Missouri not to speak here on his tour of the country against the league of nations plan, as he has announced. W. S. Linn and George Eastin, well known Democratic attorneys here, circulated the petitions, which are addressed to Senator Reed.

BOY WEARS ORANGE TIE; CHOKED BY CLASSMATE

Worcester, March 18.—Because he wore an orange tie on St. Patrick's Day, Sture Wik, a freshman in the high school, who lives at No. 25 Tennyson street, was nearly choked to death by a classmate. Wik was unconscious for over two hours after being choked by his assailant, who he says is a boy named Kane. Young Wik, who is a Swede, says he had been wearing the same necktie for weeks without molestation.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble. Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people, who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

NOW is the time to choose Dress Accessories

The little finishing touches in the way of Veils and Gloves, Ribbons and Handkerchiefs, and particularly Neckwear, are the things that count in achieving perfection of appearance. Aisle after aisle of delectable trifles in Dress Accessories on our Street Floor testify to our appreciation of their importance, and the throngs of interested women about them prove we have secured the things they want to buy and wear

Veilings

For Example—The Jet Bordered Veil

It's hard to find something new and distinguished looking in a Veil—but these Jet bordered novelties are really different and decidedly graceful.

They are worn hanging from the sides of a turban in jabot-like cascades, covering the hat, and are caught neatly at the sides and held with Jet pins.

Heavy Thread, Square Mesh Veils are very good for certain types of features—they come with pretty chenille motifs at 75c and 1.00 a yard.

Large Mesh Veils, with heavy woven square spots, a smart, rather dashing pattern, several colors, 1.00 a yard.

Ribbons

Always lovely for their own sakes, but especially appealing this year because one can make so many stylish little accessories with them.

New Metal Brocades, in Satin and Taffeta, for Vestees, Hats, Bags or Trimmings, are priced from 3.00 to 12.00 a yard.

Jacquard Ribbons show striking colors and designs, suitable for every imaginable novelty use, are priced 98c to 3.95 a yard.

New Warp Prints in fetching colors are much used for camisoles. They cost from 39c to 1.25 a yard, and New Hair Bow Ribbons, in satin and moire stripes, colors that would delight any little girl, are the same price.

Sash and Girdle Ribbons, in the most fascinating colors and in many different widths, are ready from 39c to 3.00 a yard.

Dress Trimmings

Jet Bands, very popular for matrons' formal wear, in 1 to 6-inch widths, are priced from 1.00 to 8.50.

Black Spangled Bands, ½ to 18-inch widths, from 38c to 19.50.

Colored Spangled Bands in 6-inch widths, 10.00.

Neckwear

The Vestee Leads

Call it what you will—Vestee, Gilet, Panel Vest, Tablier — that narrow strip of Fancy Brocade, Silk or Linen which fills in the front of one's dress or suit is the one absorbing topic in accessories.

It makes no difference what other features your new costume incorporates it must have a vestee.

We are showing them in beautifully colored Brocades in which lovely tones of Rose and Azure and Jade are blended softly together, and threads of Gold or Silver accentuate the design. Some have smartly cut collars, others merely a strip of gold or silver cloth to go around the neck.

These are priced up to 22.50

For less elaborate frocks there are Organdie, Poplin, Linen and Printed Silk Vestees, priced from 1.00 to 12.50.

Other Popular Neckwear Novelties Include

Silk Plaid Scarfs, satin lined, in cape or stole effects ....9.50 to 35.00

Umbrellas

Stylish colored ones and serviceable black ones—striking fancy handles and attractive plain ones—and a large variety at each price quoted.

Twenty-Two In. Umbrellas, ten-rib model, of colored silk, for sun or rain, are 6.00.

Colored Silk Umbrellas—the kind that look so cheerful on a rainy day—are to be had in allover stripes and plaids as well as plain colors, with fancy borders, at 5.00.

Umbrellas for children to take to school are priced from 1.50 to 5.00.

And a large variety of other handsome Umbrellas may be had at prices up to 30.00.

Gloves

A Fastidious Woman Realizes Their Importance

Do you like Doeskin? Soft, white and rather mannish looking, they suit some women perfectly. Outseam sewn Doeskins are 2.00.

Cape Gloves, 1-clasp, in tan, gray or beaver, are excellent choice for every day, business or street wear—2.25.

Embroidered Cape Gloves are a special value at 1.75. The colors include gray, beaver, tan, ivory and seal brown.

Imported 2-Clasp Kidskin Gloves, pique sewn, black or black with white, brown and tan, cost 3.00.

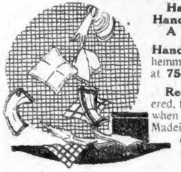
Handkerchiefs

The kind you want the moment you see them—to tuck in the corner of a pocket or peep out from the edge of a girdle.



Hand-Embroidered, All-Linen Handkerchiefs may be had for 50c.

Real Madeiras, hand embroidered, the daintiest imaginable, cost 1.50 when they are linen, but exquisite Madeira work, with hand-embroidered initials, on a fine quality of Egyptian cotton, are but 29c.

Buttons and Braids

Hercules Braids, both fine and coarse weaves, from 8c to 2.63 a yard.

Bone Buttons, all sizes and several shades, from 20c to 1.50 a doz.

AUTO SHOW DRAWS CROWDS OF BUYERS

SALES OF HIGH PRICED CARS ARE MANY

By C. F. DONNOCKER.

Unabated interest still holds the crowds which throng the halls of Mechanics Building at the Auto Show, and business and more business seems to be the rule with all the exhibitors.

There is no doubt that this is the greatest auto show that Boston has ever seen, and that means the biggest selling show of the country, for the reputation which has been established for Boston automobile shows still holds. The afternoon crowds may not be as large, but they are an interested throng that wants to buy, and that is what counts.

So many sales are reported that it is hardly necessary to make specific reference to any, but it is noteworthy that the sales apply to the highest priced cars as well as those of the medium class. Price does not seem to be the prime factor in making sales. It is rather a question of style and class and whether the purchaser can be assured of delivery.

And right here it might be well to say that there will be a big shortage of cars this year—that is generally admitted. The wise buyer will put in his order early.

Return to the Boston Field of Lexington Car Given Pleasing Welcome

The Lexington car is back on the map in New England, with headquarters on Boylston street, Boston. And its new distributer for New England is A. H. Sowers, who has been so successful in handling other lines here, notably the Jackson and the Cleveland Tractor.

The new Lexington organization comprises: William A. Haskell, president; Clarence Stowe, vice-president; A. H. Sowers, treasurer and general manager. Mr. Haskell and Mr. Stowe are very well known in the motor world, for they have been active in making Monogram oil, a popular brand among the makers, dealers and owners. They still retain their connection with the oil company.

While the retail salesrooms is down town, the wholesale departments, as well as the service station, will be located at Brighton square, where Mr. Sowers has ample facilities to take good care of all Lexington owners to see that they get adequate service.

The retail sales will be in charge of George Kimball, until recently at Portsmouth, N. H. He is a former Bostonian, and a number of years ago was identified with the Corbin car in this city. He was very successful in New Hampshire, and Mr. Sowers considers himself fortunate to get him.

"The Lexington line ranks among the leaders," said Mr. Sowers at the show last night. "For a year I have been looking over the field for the right car. And with my experience I was not going to take everything offered. Among other lines I considered the Lexington.

"When I made an investigation of the factory I was amazed. All the officials are young men, full of energy, and they are identified with other lines merging with the motor industry. So they were able to put out a car that speaks for itself.

"Just imagine a machine with only three grease cups and four oil cups. A good slogan for the car would be, 'The Squeakless Model Has Arrived.'

STEARNS KNIGHT CAR ABOUNDS IN NOVELTIES

Mr. MacAlman makes the following statement of reasons for expecting something extraordinary in design and construction:

"The Stearns factory was the choice of British engineers for the American production of Rolls-Royce aviation motors. For some time past we have devoted ourselves to this work. Every man and every department has been benefited.

"The precision of manufacture required in Rolls-Royce motor construction is reflected in the new series Stearns. This new car represents the utmost in mechanical efficiency. And this is the quality that means permanent satisfaction to motor car buyers.

"The Stearns was the first American Knight-motored car. The sleeve-valve engine had already won recognition abroad and was adopted by many famous makers—Daimler in England, Panard in France and Minerva in Belgium. Stearns was the pioneer in America and its example was followed by many well-known manufacturers."

Spark Plug Company Is Advertising Local Show

The Champion Spark Plug Company of Toledo, O., is coöperating with the local automobile association in advertising the Auto Show. Large colored posters, conspicuously placed throughout the city, bear the message "Visit the Automobile Show" in bold letters, clear across the top of the sheet. The time and the place of the show also figure prominently in the advertisement.

In carrying out this plan of giving publicity to the show, the Toledo concern was guided by the old axiom that "nothing succeeds like success." In other words, they figure that if the show is a big success everybody and everything connected with it will derive some benefit from it.

Advertising of this nature is heartily endorsed by members of the automobile association who are promoting the show. It also appeals strongly to the local Champion Spark Plug dealers, as it affords them an excellent opportunity to boom their sales of spark plugs by linking up their newspaper advertising with this poster showing. The two form a combination that is hard to beat.

HENDERSON HAS BIG TRUCK EXHIBITION

Fred C. Henderson, Inc., of No. 949 Commonwealth avenue, has put on one of the biggest truck shows in town. The local distributor of the Clydesdale and Signal trucks has taken advantage of the crowds which flock to the auto show and is reaping the benefit.

Of course there was no truck show at Mechanics Building this year, but Mr. Henderson, realizing that this was the time to get buyers, decorated his show rooms with flags, bunting and flowers and transformed the big storage space in the rear of his showroom into a grand exhibition hall for trucks.

In this room he has displayed twenty-four new trucks, Clydesdale and Signal, from one to five tons' capacity. The trucks border a spacious aisle which leads to a capacious refreshment booth, which is kept busy from 10 to 10 supplying the wants of the inner man. Busses make half hourly trips from Mechanics Building to the salesrooms and around lunch time the waiters at the refreshment "tent" are kept busy.

There is a well-supplied stock room which makes it possible for any of Mr. Henderson's owners to get almost any part at once and a complete new engine or rear end can be installed in an hour's time. "Service Is Our Slogan" is the Henderson watchword and his shop is indicative of this.

A daily demonstration of a Clydesdale truck equipped with the famous controller and one without is made, showing the difference in the cost of operation. This controller under the hood enables the driver to maintain a fixed speed, not only at maximum, but at intermediate speed, without the slightest change in the throttle, over rough or smooth roads, up hill or down.

It has been declared by automobile experts to be the best control ever devised for use on a motor truck.

Omission of Truck Show Would Be Big Mistake for Boston, Says M. L. Pulcher

"The Motor Truck Show is so much an incentive to business in general and so much an indication of good faith on the part of the industry that Boston should by all means have a motor truck show."

Thus M. L. Pulcher, vice-president and general manager of the Federal Motor Truck Company, Detroit, sums up a good reason why the Boston Truck Show should be held. And, he undoubtedly expresses the sentiment of all motor truck manufacturers and dealers. He goes on to state:

"The Chicago show was a big success and New York dealers put across one just as big—now Boston should not fall down. For years the Boston show has been considered the indicator of that year's motor truck business. Manufacturers, dealers, merchants—in fact all business men have gone to Boston each year to strengthen their faith in motor trucks as business builders.

"Then, too, the New England States have started practically all the best makes of motor trucks on to their success. New England business men with their broad-minded, farsighted business policies were able to see the great value of motor trucks and immediately began to encourage the makers by putting their products to work for them. And the trucks have proved worthy of this honor.

HIGH PRICE FOR CARS WILL CONTINUE

By C. E. FAY,

of C. E. Fay-Allen Co., Maxwell-Chalmers Distributor for Boston.

Regardless of what other manufacturers may be forced to do, and no matter what the trend of the automobile world this coming Spring, the prices on Maxwell and Chalmers cars will not be reduced one penny before June 1, 1919—if, indeed, then.

The automobile business is the third greatest industry in America, but unquestionably the first greatest, temperamentally, in the world. American motor car builders have created an art, as distinctive as any school, and, like the artists themselves, are extremely temperamental. We are easily affected by unfounded rumors and predictions, invariably doing the very opposite in regard to a motor car from that which we would consider sound business in any other matter.

For instance, in the past we have been cautioned by self-styled experts that the motor industry was reaching the point of saturation, and later, with the great war cloud overhead, came the cry of the alarmist that the industry was about to crumble. Unfortunately, both of these groundless beliefs gained an ear before they eventually disappeared as foolishly as their authors.

Since the day the armistice was signed there has been the wail of tumbling prices. With as little grounds for likelihood as either of the preceding rumors, this latest fiction obtained a hearing in certain localities, and for some weeks we have heard of prospective purchasers who, because of their reliance in such gossip, have put off buying.

The Detroit auto show has confirmed the soundness of the doctrine I have consistently adhered to. The tone and demeanor of the show crowds has convinced me that the people in the great majority of cases do not intend sitting quietly by awaiting that mythical avalanche of prices. Interest at both our Maxwell and Chalmers exhibits here has surpassed anything of the last four years, and we have opened more negotiations than during any show since 1914. This indication, I am informed, has been reported by all exhibitors from the cheapest to the most luxurious cars.

It takes but little reflection to understand why there can be no thought of a universal cut in prices for some time to come. The first reason is because it is estimated there will be a shortage of 300,000 cars in 1919; as quantity production is the only thing in the world that can make any merchandise sell for less, it is easy to see why automobile prices for the immediate future must stay up.

Skidding Practically Impossible for Cars With Royal Cord Tires

While there is no substitute for a chain, the United States Tire Company takes responsibility for the assertion that some tires are surprisingly trustworthy in emergencies of the sort for which chains are devised.

A passenger in a taxicab remonstrated recently with the driver, who was travelling at a fast rate over a slippery asphalt pavement. He told the driver he had no desire to hit a trolley pole or go through a store front.

"There is nothing to worry about," was the taxi man's response. "This car is equipped with Royal Cords."

Then to show the reason for his faith he did some stunts in starting and turning, and on no occasion was there any skidding.

"Royal Cords are good in slippery places for two reasons," said a United States Tire man in explanation. "In the first place they are of cord construction. That means they are very pliable and there is an easy play in the tire structure that allows more of the tread surface to roll along the ground as the wheel revolves. This extra surface increases the tractive force and lessens the likelihood of skidding.

"In the second place there is the non-skid tread. This figure tread is not for decorative purpose, but is scientifically devised to prevent slipping in any direction."

New Series Paige Makes Its Debut in Boston

The Paige is presented to the public at the Automobile Show in a new series which has just made its debut. Judging from the enthusiasm of the dealers who have already seen these cars, the motoring public will find a line of automobiles which will not only compel their attention, but which will be found to be far superior to any motor cars that have hitherto borne the Paige name plate.

"The larger manufacturers of motor cars have necessarily learned a great deal in the last two years," says President Harry M. Jewett of the Paige. "Our own experience has been invaluable and we have not only that additional asset as designers and builders of cars, but also far greater facilities of all kinds than we ever before had in the ten years of our history.

"The new series Paige cars is the fruit of this wider experience and greater facilities. They embody refinements of design, of engineering and of equipment that enhance the appearance, the quality and the comfort of the car. These are features that we have always emphasized. Visitors at the show will quickly determine whether the new series will uphold our reputation for beauty and we fell sure that they will be interested in hearing about the many engineering refinements that make these cars stronger, more powerful, more flexible and reliable than anything our knowledge of the manufacture of automobiles has hitherto enable us to produce."

PROF. POPE WANTS LARGE AUDITORIUM AS MEMORIAL

Professor Arthur Pope, assistant professor of fine arts at Harvard, pleads for a building containing a large auditorium as the most suitable memorial for the university's war dead. The auditorium could be used for all the larger university gatherings, class day and commencement day exercises, for symphony and other large concerts and theatrical performances, he says. He adds that the entrance to such a building could be used for the purpose of commemorating in a personal way the Harvard heroes.

A Good Tire Year
Look at the tires on the cars you see on streets and roads.
Notice the growing preponderance of good tires—United States Tires.
And, bear in mind that this is despite the fact that many thousands who sought United States Tires have been unable to buy them.
Now, government restrictions have been removed. Production of United States Tires shortly will be on a far greater scale than ever before.
The nation-wide demand for good tires has forced a tremendous increase in our output.
Everyone is asking for tires of known value and proved dependability.
And that is precisely what United States Tires represent in the minds of hundreds of thousands of American motorists and truck owners.
Our ideal—to build good tires—the very best tires that can be built—is appealing to rapidly growing numbers.
There is a type of United States Tires to meet—and meet exactly—any possible need.

RUTH AND MAYS ABSENTEES AS SOX DEPART

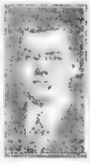
By JACK CONWAY.



New York, March 18.—Ed Barrow and the advance guard of Red Sox gave Broadway the hurried up and down this morning as they passed through the big town on their way to their training camp at Tampa, Fla.

The party which came over from Boston chaperoned by Secretary Larry Graver, consisted so far as [illegible] of George [illegible], Stuffy McInnis, Pat Shea and Norman McNeil.

Manager Barrow was on hand at Grand Central station to greet the delegation. Big Ed hurried [illegible], something about desiring to witness the St. Patrick's day festivities here, but the chances are that he desired to discuss with Owner H. H. Frazee how the World's Champs are going to get to the [illegible] for the pennant in the event Babe Ruth and Carl Mays, not to mention a few others, remain holdouts.

NOT OFFERED ENOUGH

Both of these classy hurlers are today entrenched. They assert [illegible] have set their prices and that they will either be met by Frazee or they will remain out of baseball this season.

Mays is a farmer. As he was probably offered about $4,500 by Frazee he must believe that prices on [illegible] he will be traveling or [illegible] this year.

This is not the first time, however, that chubby Carl has refused to sign early in the year and later came to terms with the powers that direct the affairs of the Red Sox.

As Ruth is not a farmer he will have to look to another field of endeavor. The big fellow has hinted that he would become a professional prize fighter if the Red Sox fail to hand him $17,000 this year for knocking the well known horsehide to neighboring States.

RUTH WILL BE NEEDED.

But Ruth's game is baseball, not fighting. It is very unlikely Frazee will trade the big [illegible]. He is needed in Boston [illegible] as the Allies required the assistance of the [illegible] back around [illegible].

Red Sox players heading South believe Ruth and Frazee will soon be able to adjust their differences and that all will then be set for a banner baseball year.

ED BOOTE ELECTED TO PILOT WESLEYAN NINE

Middletown, Ct., March 18.—Wesleyan's baseball squad has held its delayed election and Edward S. Boote of East Orange, N. J., is the captain. He is a slashing fielder at [illegible] and good batter with [illegible]. Boote starred on last Fall's varsity gridiron machine.

Brighteyes in Athletics.

THE blizzard of romance which snowed under the Leonard-Ritchie scuffle in San Francisco was a throwback to the old days when tin-plated knights dented one another with nutcrackers for the privilege of copping a beautiful flapper's hand-painted smile.

Ritchie's sweety chirped that she would marry him if he knocked Benny dizzy. Willie did the same little thing and won a home. It was all very kippy and stylish, but the average run of 1919 dolls would have fluttered right into that ring and helped the dahlink to batter the other bird into a condition which might be described as jelly from the ears down and pulp from the neck north.

The old bunk about lil' brighteyes cheering the nimble brothers on in the old durable exhibitions of brawn and skill is out like the Kaiser's dream of Mitteleuropa. After lamping that stuff for a yard of centuries, the mercerized popliners and flowered [illegible] have decided that brawn and skill is mostly bran and skull. They're tired of piping a bunch of dads grabbing all the athletic honors.

The old-timed boiler-cased knight who had his clothes made in an iron foundry is out. In the old leagues, two [illegible] coiled up like tomato cans would attack each other with can openers for the privilege of adding a lady's left handed glove to their collection of southpaw mittens. After the winner had slipped the powder to the other sapp's burglar-proof vest, the lady would wrinkle her ears up into a smile and toss him a rose or a turnip, all depending on the season.

But that's out now. Getting so that the flapper of the species is more deadly than the male by about eleven yards and sixteen colors. They have not only speared the vote but they are also shaking a wicked set of half soles and high heels in the athletic tournament.

The Wheeler-Wilsons Are Out.

A LONG time ago when the Republicans used to nominate and elect Presidents a frail's idea of violent exercise was powdering her own pink nose. Noses were pink in the old days. If they are pink after July first we'll say that it's a misfortune and not a habit. Old Papa Time is the greatest of all censors, and if he can't eliminate the sunset from a beak, the blaze is permanent. Anyway, the Republicans still nominate Presidents, but they don't elect 'em. And a flapper's idea of athletics is something more than paddling a fun marathon on a sewing machine. Now the shrieks are hopping all over the tennis linoleum, stepping around the golf boulevards and waving a mean [illegible] on ice skates, racing autos, airplanes and other ways of winning insurance money.

Nimble Lady Golfers Stymie Colonel Bogie.

FR instance, Mrs. George W. Wightman can make most of the tennis players in the works look dumber than a trapped mouse. And there are [illegible] she golferettes around the turf who can outswing, outmuss and outdrive any popeyed gent in the club, to chirp nothing of outcussing 'em. Elenora Sears will spot you fifty buttons in polo, motor racing or flying. Claire Galligan and sister swimmerines can swim you fifteen or no count. Basketball teamettes from Vassar or Bryn Mawr could roughhouse any team in the States and cop the brown derby.

* * *

Weaker Sex Is the Bunk.

CALLING 'em the weaker sex is the old oil. Did you ever pipe the wallets the frails pack around with 'em? Look like garages with handles. You never hear of purse grabbers any more. If a sneaks did snitch a handbag he wouldn't be able to carry it away. Who are the messenger robbers holding up these fat days? They are sticking up nothing but brawny guys and knocking 'em cold for the gate receipts. One sapp tried it on a frail anaemic lady bank runner and she flattened him flatter than the bottom buckwheat cake in a ten-cake stack.

* * *

THE blonderettes who flopped around the old Roman arenas and gave the gladiators the thumbs south sure had a lot of fun. When a guy tries to vamp a girl on Boylston street, she doesn't give him the thumb south. It's fists north. And she knocks him cuckoo. Being a life member of the weaker sex, she can't jolt him for more than sixteen yards, but after he's done a three-cushion carom off of six telegraph poles and four ash cans, he's through like a cancelled stamp.

LUDECKER WANTS BELT OWNED BY JOE TURNER

Martin Ludecker insists that he will demand the Fox gold belt after he beats Joe Turner at the Grand Opera House Thursday night. He has [illegible] that if Turner does not care to jeopardize the belt he should not [illegible] be willing to meet all comers.

"The fact of the matter is Turner will insist on spot falls," states Ludecker. "Under such conditions it would be impossible to get a promoter to stage a match. But let Joe come out into the open, wrestle under straight catch-as-catch-can rules, and I'll put up a big side bet I can throw him."

MAYS WIRES HIS SALARY OFFER IS TOO TINY

By H. W. LANIGAN

Carl Mays, Red Sox's reliable righthander and the best of the modern day Joe McGinnitys, remains on his farm out in that dear Mansfield, Mo. Sh-h-h! Can it be that he is in cahoots with Babe Ruth, the Fenway Park troupe's other ace star, in seeking a [illegible] baxom salary from H. H. Frazee for this year?

Carl and Babe have always been the closest of pals and, what's closer to the point, the two [illegible] of Ed Barrow's box [illegible]. It's superfluous to add anything about Babe's [illegible] the big boy draws [illegible] at the gate here in Boston and all over the American League circuit.

Two weeks ago Mays wired the American stating that the contract tendered him by Frazee did not meet with his approval. Chubby Carl's telegram came at the time the word was received from Everett Scott, king of defensive shortstops.

Since then Scott has been pacified and today is headed South for the Sox's training camp at Tampa, Fla.

But Mays remains a member of the Holdout Club, Boston Chapter. The American received this message from the Missouri boy:

Boston American: No, have not accepted terms from the Boston Club. Am giving my farm all my attention. CARL W. MAYS.

"Going south?" Big Babe was asked.

"Hope so," was his reply, "but not until I get my price. Frazee knows what I want and he will give it to me or I'll try something else for a living."

OLLIE CHILL BACK ON BAN'S STAFF OF UMPS

Chicago, March 18.—President B. B. Johnson of the American League has announced his staff of umpires for the 1919 season. They are: [illegible] H. Connolly, William G. Evans, William Dinneen, George Hildebrand, C. B. Owens, George Moriarty, R. F. Nallin and Ollie Chill.

Chill, who formerly umpired in the American League, takes the place of Silk O'Loughlin, who died in Boston during the Winter.

DARTMOUTH IS TO HAVE HUGE SWIMMING POOL

Hanover, N. H., March 18.—Dartmouth is to have a swimming pool [illegible]. The pool and walls of the room will be lined with tile; a spectators' gallery will be provided and a special [illegible] for pumping, filtering and specially purifying the water of the pool will be devised.

DAN MORGAN'S PEPPERY PAIR BACK IN HUB

RINGSIDE'S SELECTIONS

Louis Bogash to beat Johnny Clinton.

Frankie Walsh to beat Young Solzberg.

By RINGSIDE.

Plenty of the real fistic fireworks are on the [illegible] tonight at the Grand Opera House. The Armory A. A. puts on two feature numbers, Shaver O'Brien vs. Eddie Fitzsimmons twelve rounds and Johnny Clinton vs. Louis Bogash over the same distance.

Bogash showed here a few weeks ago against Jerry Brooks much to the discomfiture of the hard-hitting West End newsboy. The Bridgeport boy showed a brand of boxing that took the crowd off its feet.

A couple of off handers will pair off when Shaver and Fitzsimmons get in the ring. We all know what Shaver can do when he's hard pushed and judging from what Fitzsimmons recently did to Paul Doyle, the South Boston champ is in for one hot session.

Toppy Leahy and Willie Coogan, the two South Boston youths, will again try and settle their corner championship in a six-round joust. They've already mixed it a couple of times to draw heats. Young Solzberg and Frankie Walsh of the navy start the show with a six round set-to.

Johnny Carr, who manages the affairs of Young Sacco and several other ring stars, is on the trail of Charles Parker, Harry Carlson and Phoenix Bill. [illegible] says that the East Boston battler will continue to camp until they come through. Carr declares that Sacco has won and lost in his two starts with Carlson and that by all rules and regulations the pair should come together again. Carr is also handling the affairs of Soldier Baum and wants to hear from the best 140 pounders.

The N. E. A. A. U. boxing championships will be held in Mechanics Building Monday evening, March 31, and the following events will be contested:

The St. Joseph's T. A. Society will stage an amateur show at the Cor[illegible] quarters tomorrow evening with events in the following classes: 108, 115, 125 and 135 pounds. Two specials will be put on: [illegible] and Satereale in the 118-pound and [illegible] in the 145-pound division.

Frankie [illegible] has [illegible] formed since [illegible] Brady and [illegible] were from [illegible] Ray [illegible] manager is doing the matchmaking for that city. He has yet to name Britt's foe. Britt has signed to box Pat Moran, Vic's brother, at Cleveland April 3.

The Fenway A. A. will trot out Harry Carlson and Phinnie Boyle next Monday night.

TONIGHT'S BOXING CARD.

Frank Carbone vs. Jack McCarron at [illegible], Pa.

Notice to Amateurs' Managers

Amateur baseball, soccer, track and swimming managers, anxious to prepare schedules for the coming season, are invited to send challenges to the Amateur Sport Editor of the Boston American.

WITH THE SCHOOLBOYS

The call for candidates for the Huntington School baseball team brought out a good sized squad. Practice will be held in the vacant field adjoining the school. A schedule is being arranged for a second team so that everyone will get a chance to play.

* * *

Exeter's baseball schedule has just been announced. It follows: April 19, Lynn English High; April 23, Haverhill High; April 26, Lowell Textile; April 30, open; May 3, Yale Freshmen at New Haven; May 7, open; May 10, open; May 14, open; May 17, Harvard Freshmen; May 21, Tufts Freshmen; May 24, Holy Cross Freshmen; May 28, open; May 31, [illegible] Academy; June 4, open; June 7, Andover. All games will be played at home excepting the Yale Freshmen. Tentative games are pending with Boston College, Groton School and Rindge Tech.

* * *

Coach Ray Ertel of Belmont High School has a promising bunch of athletes out for the baseball team, and Captain Bill Marsh has hopes of a very fast team. A few more games are needed to fill out the schedule and high school managers are asked to communicate with Manager Joseph Leonard.

* * *

The baseball schedule of [illegible] High will be made entirely of league games. The list is composed of twenty-one games, opening with Brookline High April 12 and closing with Somerville June 17. The dates:

April 12, Brookline at Brookline; April 16, Somerville at Medford; April 19, Malden at Medford; April 23, Everett at Medford; April 26, Rindge at Medford; April 30, Cambridge Latin at Cambridge.

May 3, Newton at Medford; May 7, Brookline at Medford; May 10, Somerville at Somerville; May 14, Malden at Malden; May 17, Everett at Everett; May 21, Rindge at Cambridge; May 24, Cambridge Latin at Medford; May 28, Newton at Newton; May 31, Brookline at Brookline; May 31, Rindge at Medford.

* * *

Coach Mark Devlin, former Holy Cross and Notre Dame athletic star, has called out the candidates for the St. John's Prep Baseball team. The candidates for the pitching staff include Morrissey and Wall, a pair of veterans. Wall is a southpaw, with plenty of speed and a good curve. Glenn, Brady, Somers, Monjeau and Plancish are the other candidates for the slab staff.

PETE WALSH,
DORCHESTER HIGH
ALL-AROUND ATHLETE OF GREAT MERIT.

TO be hailed as the premier schoolboy 1000-yard runner of the year is the proud record Pete Walsh holds. This lad gained his first athletic spurs at Boston Latin, but shifted to Dorchester High. He is also a halfback, first baseman and a hockey forward premier. He will graduate next year and plans to enter Bowdoin.

AMATEUR NOTES

The Revere Tigers are out to meet all comers on the diamond the coming season. The team is made up of some of the best amateur players in the State. R. Hoffman, pitcher on last year's team, will be on the mound again. He's out to better his [illegible] record of twelve victories out of [illegible]teen starts. The other players are: W. [illegible], catcher; J. Lavin, first base; J. Neary, second base; P. Ballon, third base; A. Tyrer, shortstop; W. Bennett, centre field; H. Bennett, centre field; [illegible] Devine, right field. For games address J. W. Marie, No. 68 Arcadia st., Revere, or phone 1037-J Revere.

The Beaconfield Club of the Y. M. H. A. desires games with 95-100-pound basketball teams. Communicate with Max H. Numan, B. Y. M. H. A.

The Army Headquarters team [illegible] organized and will take the field against other baseball teams in [illegible] harbor. Lieutenant Joseph [illegible] of the transportation office has been appointed manager and Thomas F. Mahoney will act as captain.

The basketball championship of Beverly will be decided March 25, when the Beverly Y. M. C. A. and United Shoe Company teams clash in the third and deciding game of their series. The teams will line up as follows: United Shoe: [illegible], Anderson and Munroe, forwards; Nelson, centre; and Jonson [illegible] Munroe, guards. Beverly Y. M. C. A.: Bell, [illegible] and Doane, forwards; Ames, centre; [illegible] Stansfield and [illegible], guards.

The Pilgrim A. A. of Beachmont [illegible] field [illegible] of the fast [illegible] teams [illegible]. The Pilgrims would like to arrange games at home or away. Curtis Field, the home [illegible] is one of the best in the [illegible]. Communicate with C. F. [illegible], No. [illegible] avenue.

[illegible] starts, the Danforth [illegible] of Roxbury is again in the field seeking further diamond glories. The Danforth team has nearly all of last year's players and issues a defi to [illegible] teams. For games write to [illegible] Walsh, No. 970 Parker street.

BRITTON STOPS "KID" LEWIS IN NINTH

Britton hit the champion at will. Lewis was knocked down three times in the sixth round, staying down each time for the count. The first round was a tame one, but the second was a whirlwind, with Britton using a wicked left jab which rocked Lewis' head back and forth.

In Round Four Lewis almost went to the floor, but saved himself by desperate clinches against the ropes.

Round Six opened with Lewis missing a wicked right to Britton's jaw. The challenger came back with a straight right haymaker that knocked Lewis to the floor. The ex-champion was rocking when he got up and went down again from a wild swing. He took one again, got up and was again floored, only the bell saving him.

The last round was a succession of knockdowns, the ex-champion going down for the last time through sheer weakness, brought on by a terrific right to the right eye. He was out for about a minute.

But—Here's the Alibi

[illegible] was sick before entering ring here tonight with Britton, but did not want to disappoint fans. He went weak in sixth round and collapsed in the ninth unable to go any further. —Charley Harvey.

LAST NIGHT IN RING

The dead girl's name was evidently Tatyana, one of several children of some Cossack chief or petty prince and on the eve of her marriage to a young officer named M[illegible] the Kurds raided the town. For Comparison

"He seemed to be as [illegible] good-natured and gracious, saying that no doubt I was quite right in sending the plans to Berlin. He spoke of Enver Bey cordially, and said he hoped [illegible] to him and his friends very soon. When Abdul Hamid becomes reconciled to anybody who disagrees with him, the latter is always dead.

"He asked me where I was going. I told him about the plans I was preparing for the Trebizond district. He offered me an escort of Kurdish cavalry, saying that he had been told the district was not very safe. I thanked him and declined his escort of assassins.

"[illegible] saw it a[illegible] very plainly. Like a pirate captain Abdul orders his crew to dig a secret hole for his treasure, and when the hole is dug and the treasure hidden he murders the men who hid it for him so that they shall never betray its location. I am one of those men. That is what he means for me, who have given him [illegible] No wonder that in England they call him Abdul the Damned.

"May 3—In the Bazaar at Tchardak yesterday two men tried to stab me. I got their daggers but they escaped in the confusion. Murad called to express horror and regret. Yes, regret that I had not been murdered.

"May 5—I have written to my government that my usefulness here seems to be ended, that my life is in hourly danger, that I desire to be more thoroughly informed concerning the [illegible] between Berlin and the Yildiz Palace.

"May 6—I am in disgrace. My government is furious because my correspondence with Enver Bey has been stolen. The Porte has complained about me to Berlin. Berlin disowns me, disclaims all knowledge of my political activities outside of [illegible] work.

"This is what [illegible] secret instructions [illegible] brings desertion by the government from which such instructions are received. In diplomacy failure is a crime never forgiven. Abandoned by my government I am now little better than an outlaw here. Two courses remain open to me—to go back in disgrace and live obscurely for the remainder of my life, or to risk my life by hanging on desperately here with an almost hopeless possibility before me of accomplishing something to serve my government and rehabilitate myself.

"The matter of the stolen plans is being taken up by our ambassador at the Sublime Porte. The British embassy is suspected. What folly! I possess a third set of plans. Our embassy ought to send to Trebizond for them. I don't know what to do.

"May 12—A letter I wrote May [illegible] to the German Embassy has been stolen. I am now greatly worried about the third set of plans. It seems safest to include the box containing them among the baggage of the American missionary, the Reverend Wilbur Carew, [illegible] too, for me to seek [illegible] with him.

"As I am now afraid that an [illegible] of the German Embassy [illegible] missionary's promise that he will retain and conceal the contents of my box until I instruct him otherwise. I am practically [illegible] his house, and in actual fear of my life.

"May [illegible]—The missionary and his wife and baby travel to Gallipoli where an American school for girls is about to be opened.

"Today, in a cafe I noticed that the flies swarming on the edge of my coffee cup, fell into the saucer dead. I did not taste my coffee.

"May 16—Last night a shot was fired within my door. I have decided to travel to Gallipoli with the missionary.

Groom Poisoned

"May 1[illegible]—My groom stole and ate an orange from my breakfast tray. He is dead.

"May 20—The Rev. Mr. Carew and his wife are most kind and sympathetic. They are good people, simple, kindly, brave, faithful, and fearlessly devoted to God's service in this vile land of treachery and lies.

"May 21.—I have confessed to the Rev. Mr. Carew as I would confess to a priest in holy orders. I have told him all under pledge of secrecy. I told him also that the sanctuary he offers me might be violated with evil consequences to him, and that I would travel as far as Gallipoli with him and then leave. But the kind, courageous missionary and his wife insist that I remain under the protection which he says the flag of his country affords me. If I could only get my third set of plans out of the country.

"May 22.—Today my coffee was again poisoned. I don't know what prevented me from tasting it—some vague premonition. A pariah dog ate the bread I soaked in it, and died before he could yelp.

"It looks to me as though my end were inevitable. Today I gave my bronze figure of Erlik, the Yellow Devil, to Mrs. Carew to keep as a dowry for her little daughter, now a baby in arms. If it is hollow, as I feel sure, there are certain to be one or two jewels in it. And the figure itself might bring five hundred marks at an antiquary's.

"May 30.—Arrived at the Gallipoli mission. Three Turkish [illegible] lying close inshore. A British cruiser, the Cobra, and an American cruiser, the Oneida, appeared about sunset and anchored near the ironclads. The bugles on deck were plainly audible. If a German warship appears I shall carry my box on board. My only chance to rehabilitate myself is to get the third set of plans to Berlin.

"June 1—In the middle of the religious exercises with which the new school is being inaugurated, cries of "Allah" come from a great crowd which has gathered. From my window where I am writing I can see how insolent the attitude of this Mohammedan riffraff is becoming. They spit upon the ground—a pebble is tossed at a convert—a sudden shout of "Allah"—pushing and jostling—a lighted torch blazes! I take my whip of rhinoceros hide and go down into the court to put a stop to this insolence."

"Daddy, is that where poor Herr Wilner died?"

"Yes, dear."

"I have always considered it very strange that the German government did not send for Herr Wilner's papers."

"Probably they did, Mary. And very probably Murad Bey told them that the papers had been destroyed."

"And you never believed it to be your duty to send the papers to the German government?"

"No. It was an unholy alliance that Germany sought with that monster Abdul. And when Enver Pasha seized the reins of government such an alliance would have been none the less unholy. You know and so do I that if Germany did not actually incite the Armenian massacres she at least was cognizant of preparations made to begin them. Germany is still hostile to all British or American missions, all Anglo-Saxon influence in Turkey.

"No, I did not send Herr Wilner's papers to Berlin; and the events of the last fifteen years have demonstrated that I was right in withholding them."

Synopsis of the Story So Far

Ruhannah Carew, born in Trebizond, daughter of an American missionary, Reverend Wilbour Carew, accompanies her parents to their old home in Gayfield, New York State, after the father has been crippled by a Mohammedan fanatic. Her favorite amusement is playing with the wonder box of the late Herr Conrad Wilner, a few pages of whose wonderful diary are always read by her father or mother to her as a bedtime story. The box contains treasures with which Rue plays and finds absorbing interest. She learns from the diary that Wilner saw the box being dropped from a yacht in the Bosphorus and fished it up with the body of a beautiful girl sewn in a sack.

Guided by a Touch

One of the Pampas, and indeed all over South America, a saddle horse is never guided, as by us, by pulling at the bit. The pressure of the reins on the neck is made to serve the same turn. The reins being held in the left hand, palm upward, a mere twist guides the horse. A touch on the right of the neck makes the horse go to the left, and vice versa. On the well trained animal a touch of the hand on the neck serves the same purpose.

Economy

Cissie was grumbling about [illegible] [illegible] cent stamps on her letters; but Flossie would have none of it.

"It's a lovely idea!" she affirmed.

"Why?" asked Cissie.

"Oh," said Flossie, "since this three-cent postage came in Jack has stopped writing to a lot of girls out of town."

When a Girl Marries

A New Serial of Young Wedded Life

CHAPTER XCIV

Copyright [illegible]

WHEN I reached home from the visit to our canteen lieutenant, the doorman greeted me with an enormous hatbox-like affair. On its cover was the name of one of the smartest florists. Still aflame with the good will enkindled by doing Carlotte Starkes a good turn, I [illegible] [illegible] would [illegible] down the barrier of coldness I had set up between [illegible]

It's against my principles to [illegible] string, but it was beyond my power to stop to untie those knots. So I fairly hurled open the box.

There in a deep bowl of blue lustre was a mass of exquisite [illegible] of the valley, and in the midst of their white loveliness were three [illegible] roses. Under them a flat [illegible] [illegible] Then I [illegible] over flung across one [illegible] of the refectory table.

A-tiptoe with excitement I ran [illegible] which to examine first [illegible] I [illegible] decided [illegible] Jim [illegible]

I unfastened the [illegible] paper—and there [illegible] Tom Mason had dared [illegible] send it [illegible]

Now at my life [illegible] I had [illegible] offered [illegible] [illegible] angry [illegible] [illegible] with rage [illegible] vase of blue [illegible] table and hurled [illegible] of water and broken pottery, lay pallor-stricken while lilies and angry rose buds.

For a moment I stared at them, heaving, raging, ready to go and wreak more vengeance on them. The next instant I became cold with bitter shame. Those little flowers! It was as if I'd struck baby hands [illegible] them. I found a box, filled it with damp tissue paper and packed the flowers safely in it. Then I fetched broom and dustpan and cleaned the hearth my temper had defiled.

Presently I was hatted and coated again and on my way to a tangle [illegible]

I was [illegible] when I returned home. Very [illegible] I took the blue robe, folded [illegible] back in the chest [illegible] I opened Tom Mason's note and read his little message.

"Forgive! The flowers say it for me. And [illegible] I am [illegible] Won't you [illegible]

[illegible] of [illegible] true meaning of marriage after all? Nothing was said of recent events. Jim didn't have to go to his collar box, since I had put the studs and links and collar buttons in his [illegible] for the time being he [illegible] that I had returned [illegible]

Almost [illegible] Jim came over to me [illegible] my hands in his and he kissed them—first one, then the other [illegible] my lips, I think I was half disappointed, half relieved.

"Wonderful [illegible] he ended, slowly staring at me with puzzled eyes as he dropped my hands and limped into the [illegible]

IND. ALCOHOL MAKES BIG GAIN

Shipping Issues Higher and Active; Market Improves at Midday

By W. H. ROSS,
Financial Editor.

Stocks were at their highest for the day in New York in the afternoon, there having been an advance during the noon hour in which most active issues participated. While the majority either recovered losses or made small gains, a few sold several points higher. Among stocks to advance the most were Marine preferred and common, Atlantic Guf, Sinclair Oil, U. S. Rubber and American Linseed Oil. Industrial Alcohol made the largest gain of all. Shipping issues were active as well as strong. They were the midday feature. While standard issues remained inactive, there were extensive dealings in specialties. Pool activity was evident in several quarters. The volume of trading was less than for several days, but speculation was on a large scale.

LARGEST GAINS IN AFTERNOON.

Largest gains i nthe afternoon included Marine preferred, 3⅛ at 112, common 1⅝ at 26⅝; Atlantic Gulf, 3¾ at 118; American International, 2⅛ at 71½; Industrial Alcohol, 7¼ at 145¾; United Cigar Stores, 1½ at 137, after selling at the record high of 138½; Sinclair Oil, 1⅛ at 44⅞, after selling at the record high of 45⅛; Ohio Cities Gas, 1 at 41; American Linseed Oil, 1⅛ at 48⅜; Allis Chalmers, 1⅛ at 36⅛; and Continental Can, 1⅞ at 79¼. U. S. Steel was up at 95⅝, after selling during the day from 94⅞ to 95⅞.

Declines were fractional as a rule, and among them were Royal Dutch, old, ⅝ at 93¼, new ⅝ at 88⅞, Texas Co. ¼ at 216, General Motors ½ at 163½, Kelly Springfield 2½ at 113½, Hide and Leather preferred ⅜ at 95½, Sumatra ½ at 113¼ and Woolen common ½ at 52½.

IRREGULAR AT NOONTIME.

The New York market was irregular at noon after a morning of indefinite price trend. Little reactions were followed by slight rallies, with trading of the same character that has marked it for several days, but with this price range narrower, viewing the list as a whole. New Haven was one of the few rails to show any activity, and it was weak. While quiet coppers displayed some strength. Until near noontime U. S. Steel was consistently weak. It has been sold heavily this week by brokers representing large holders. Alcohol issues were strong. Atlantic Gulf and American International advanced but Marine issues receded. United Cigar Stores was a feature, selling at its record highest price. Both old and new Royal Dutch shares sold lower. Motors were rather erratic in movement, Willys Overland selling at its year's highest. Trading was active during the first hour, but slackened materially in the second.

LOCAL TRADING IS TAME.

The local market had a tame opening and trading here continued to be quiet and uninteresting up to noon. Price changes were small. Massachusetts Electric issues were fairly active, but had a narrow range, which was true also of Ventura Oil. Business in coppers was negligible. United Shoe and Woolen preferred showed gains all the morning. In the main transactions here were devoid of interest.

There was not much change in the Boston market over the noon period and gains here in the afternoon included United Fruit, ½ at 175; Swift, ⅛ at 128¾; Mohawk, ⅜ at 52⅞; Calumet & Hecla, 5 at 400; Boston Elevated, ¾ at 66½; Bosch Magneto, ⅝ at 66½, and Island Oil, ⅛ at 7⅞. Among declines were Massachusetts Electric preferred, ; at 6⅝; common, ⅞ at 1½; New Haven, ⅞ at 29⅞; Isle Royale, ½ at 24¼; Ventura Oil, ¼ at 10⅛, and American Telephone, ½ at 104¾.

SPECIALTIES AGAIN A FEATURE.

Irregular at the opening, the market continued to be featured by specialties. The bulk of the initial trading was in shipping, oil, motor and a number of other industrial issues. U. S. Steel was comparatively quiet and rails and coppers got little attention. Business was largely in small lots and the public is still speculating freely. There are a number of pools at work. Professional traders seem to be quite evenly divided as to their view of the market outlook, although talk is generally more bearish. There has been a great deal of profit-taking within a week, and it is current opinion that the big operators have unloaded extensively, and that it would not be difficult to unlodge holdings in a great quantity, if "big interests" cared to move to that end.

TRADE IS PICKING UP.

There are a number of signs, including bank clearings, that business is improving all over the country. Retail merchants are having more trade and there is more demand for most raw materials. While industrial effort has been greatly curtailed this year, there is renewed activity in some mills. The textile situation is distinctly better. It is hoped that after the conference in Washington between manufacturers and the industrial board of the Department of Commerce as to prices there will be an expansion of the steel trade. If it could set a pace industrial activity in almost all lines would follow. The copper mining situation seems to offer little hope of an early improvement.

London Stock Market

London, March 18.—The stock market was dull today and without any feature of especial interest. Labor troubles are restricting speculation. Consols, 57⅞, off ⅛; 5½ per cent. war loan, 87⅞; 5s, 95; 4½s, 99½; 4s, 100 9-16; French 5s, 84⅝, off ¼; Russian 5s, 50, up ½; 4½s, 41, off 1; 4s, 37.

FRANCS WEAK FEATURE IN FOREIGN EXCHANGE

New York, March 18.—Francs continued today to be the weak feature in the foreign exchange market, quotations being 5.79 for checks and 5.77 for cables, both nominal.

It was stated that franc rates are feeling the sterling rate increase in Paris, which continues to advance.

Quits Cathartics--Internal Baths Relieved Permanently

Mr. Joseph A. Weis, Hotel Vendome, Washington, D. C., writes Tyrell's Hygienic Institute of New York as follows:

"On the 15th of June, 1916, I purchased a 'J. B. L. Cascade.' The results it has produced are simply marvellous. For 28 years I used cathartics, but have used nothing but the Cascade for almost a month. I feel like a new man; I want to be pleasant to everybody. Before I used the Cascade I was a grouch. Did not like anybody and could not be pleasant."

If you bathe internally with the "J. B. L. Cascade" you will find yourself always bright, confident and capable. Poisonous waste in the lower intestine makes us bilious, blue, dull and nervous. Internal baths are Nature's own cure for constipation—just antiseptic warm water properly applied. Drugs force Nature—the "J. B. L. Cascade" gently assists her.

It is the invention of Chas. A. Tyrrell, M. D., of New York, who specialized on Internal Bathing for 25 years, and will be shown and explained to you by all Liggett-Riker-Jaynes' Stores in New England, who will also be glad to give you free on request an interesting booklet called "Why Man of Today Is Only 50% Efficient," which covers the subject in a very thorough way.

Clip this out as a reminder, and ask for the booklet the first time you are in the neighborhood.—Advertisement.

COPPER METAL MARKET DULL AS EVER

No Sales or Inquiries Reported at Beginning of the Week

No new developments in the copper metal market were reported at the beginning of the week. Nothing was said about sales or inquiries. The leading selling interests were asking fifteen cents a pound delivered or a quarter of a cent less f. o. b., New York. There is belief that mines will continue to curtail production until the present surplus is greatly diminished, and that dividend reductions will be the rule by companies that mine red metal. Since the first of this year eighteen companies have cut or passed dividends. Many cannot pay the expense of production at the price for metal now quoted.

Sales of metal last week are estimated to have totalled approximately 12,000 pounds, and it is stated that most of this business was done at from 14¾ to 15 cents a pound, although transactions set as low a figure as 14½ are reported. A lot for export is said to have brought 14⅝ cents a pound. More will be known about the copper situation in Europe when the committee representing the Copper Export Association returns to this country at the end of this month. These experts will sail from an English port for New York on March 22.

LIVERPOOL BOUGHT NEW STYLE COTTON AT START

New York, March 18.—Liverpool was the best buyer of new style contracts at the opening of the cotton market today, and Southern mills had orders in the market to buy new crop positions on a scale down. The lower opening was due to poor cables and an accumulation of overnight selling orders based on Monday's reaction. Old style contracts were from 25 to 115 points lower and the new style 13 points lower to 2 points higher. Later the market acted steady, and at the end of the first twenty minutes was 5 to 8 points net lower on the new style positions.

Opening prices were: March, old, 26.00; April, old, 24.50 offered; May, old, 23.85, new, 24.50; June, old, 23.00 offered; July, old, 22.70 new, 23.15; August, old, 22.15 offered, new, 22.00; September, new, 21.90 bid; October, old, 21.01, new, 21.50; December, old, 20.90, new, 21.35; January, old, 20.60, new, 21.37.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, March 18.—Corn opened ⅝ to 1½c higher. Oats were ⅛ to ½c higher. Provisions opened higher. Opening prices were: Corn, March, 1.54⅝ to 155; May, 1.42⅝ to 1.43½; July, 1.35½ to 1.36. Oats, May, 64; July, 63 to 63⅛. Pork, May, 46.75; July, 43.70. Lard, July, 27.60. Ribs, May, 25.67; July, 24.25.

Coal Production

Production of anthracite coal during the previous week was 1,102,000. Production from April 1, 1918, to March 1, this year is estimated at 88,111,000 net tons, or 160,000 less than for the corresponding preceding period. During that period, however, bituminous production increased 16,613,000 net tons. For the week ended March 8, this year, bituminous production is estimated at 8,058,000 tons, compared with 8,085,000 for the preceding week.

New York Sub-Treasury Loss

New York, March 18.—The sub-treasury lost $8,000 to the banks on Monday, making a cash net loss since Friday of $334,000.

HUSBAND GONE, FAMILY FACES EVICTION

Mother of Six in Dedham Tells Pathetic Story to the Police

Hunger menaces Mrs. Walker E. Lonsdale of East Dedham and her six little children. Eviction from their home at No. 12 Maverick street is threatened unless they pay rent long overdue. Missing is the husband and father of the family since early in February.

Such was the tragically pathetic story told by the mother to the Dedham police today when she reported her husband's disappearance and told of her fears of his having ended his life.

Not a cent remains in her pocketbook, Mrs. Lonsdale reluctantly admitted to a Boston American reporter. She and the children would have starved but for the aid of the Overseers of the Poor and the Catholic Women's Club. The children range in age from fifteen months to eleven years, and the mother is weary by care and privation.

It was as she lay sick in the hospital with influenza, and the children likewise ill at home, that her husband disappeared, said Mrs. Lonsdale. Prior to his last visit at the hospital, he had been despondent.

Not the slightest warning of his disappearance, however, did he utter. He was a good, sober and hard-working man, holding a $35 a week position as foreman in a Dedham mill. They were buying their home on the rental plan.

It was the notice that she must give up this home unless the arrears were paid by March 20 that broke down the last barrier of her pride and caused her to appeal to the police for help.

Easy to Make This Pine Cough Remedy

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest. Pine is famous for this purpose.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain granulated sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children take it eagerly.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Advertisement.

Boston American's Horses Star in Parades

"Boston American horses are always among the finest horses in the Work Horse Parade," writes Henry C. Merwin to the American, in announcing the rules for this year's parade.

The entries close May 1; there is no entry fee; age counts in favor of a horse instead of against it, and an old harness is just as good as a new one.

The parade provides a special class for blind cavalry, fire, police and other horses. Entry blanks may be obtained from the Boston Work Horse Relief Association, No. 15 Beacon street.

STOLEN AUTOS SOLD NEAR TAUNTON

Nine Farmers Bought Them, Says Frank Ferrara, Arrested in Providence

Providence, March 18.—Nine farmers living on the outskirts of Taunton are riding about in stolen automobiles which the police expect to recover today, following the confession of Frank Ferrara, alias Frank Smith, who is alleged to have told Providence police inspectors that he stole all of the nine cars and later sold them.

Ferrara was arrested early today. According to Chief Inspector John T. Maguire, Ferrara gave his age as twenty-one years old, and said he lived in Dighton, a village near Taunton, with his bride of five months. Ferrara says he has a farm, and that he stole the first machine to stock it, the police declare.

His method, according to the authorities, was to visit Providence, step into an automobile left at the curb and drive it to his Dighton farm, where, after slight alterations, he would dispose of it to a farmer. Nine times Ferrara repeated this performance, according to his alleged confession.

Ferrara left Providence for Taunton today with members of the Providence police force. The police declared he was taking them to identify the cars he had stolen, and which would be recovered and returned to their rightful owners.

MISS DOROTHY PHILLIPS, who has scored success in Nanette in the "Heart of Humanity," now showing at Tremont Temple.

The promise that Henry W. Savage saw in Dorothy Phillips eight years ago, when the little actress was the legitimate stage, has come to full fruition in Miss Phillips' newest screen character—Nanette, in "The Heart of Humanity," which is now playing at the Tremont Temple to capacity audiences.

"The Heart of Humanity" is a superfilm directed by Allen Holubar at Universal City and written by Mr. Holubar, in collaboration with Mrs. Olga Linek Scholl.

It is the theme of the eternal emotion expressed not merely by one woman to her child but by all womankind to their children, and in remaking the marred world into a new structure of lasting foundations. In "The Heart of Humanity" the great light of human kindness again has peered forth from the gloom of war, for victory has been won and civilization and democracy are the ruling influences.

In the work of returning to normal the warped brains and bodies of maltreated children, victims of Hun kultur, the Red Cross undertakes its most typical service, and Nanette (Miss Phillips) finds the happiest labor in drawing out of the fright shocked kiddies the horror of the conflict as it was forced into their hearts, and Nanette's own motherconsciousness teaches her the most direct method to reach the souls of the children.

Miss Phillips once was called by Henry Savage "The Girl Nazimova." That was when her talents "gave promise." The promise has been carried out. Today, in her twenty-fourth year, Miss Phillips is one of the most emotionally gifted actresses on the screen. Among her pre-Nanette successes are such pictures as "The Talk of the Town," "A Soul for Sale" and "Hell Morgan's Girl."

Seattle Has Object Lesson in Public Ownership

A week or two ago the American told the story of the Jacksonville municipal electric plant, which has saved the citizens hundreds of thousands in their light and power bills, and in the first few years of its operation drove the competing private company out of business.

Turning from the extreme southeast to the extreme northwestern corner of the United States, we find in Seattle another classical instance of the tremendous success of a municipal electric lighting and power plant, a success achieved in open competition with private ownership represented by the most powerful electric lighting combine in the country, not as in Jacksonville by a comparatively feeble local concern.

In 1900 Seattle's light and power were supplied by the Union Electric Company, controlled by the Stone & Webster interests of Boston, and the householders were paying 20 cents a kilowatt hour for residence lighting. Two years later the citizens, by a three-fifths vote, decided to build a municipal plant, whereupon the private company IMMEDIATELY CUT THE RATE TO 12 CENTS. This big reduction did not prevent the city from going ahead with the public plant, which began to operate in 1905, and undercut the private company's 12-cent rate by establishing the following schedule for residence lighting:

8½c. per kilowatt hour for the first 20 hours.
7½c. per kilowatt hour for the second 20 hours.
6½c. per kilowatt hour for the third 20 hours.
4½c. per kilowatt hour for all over 60 hours.

Six years later the municipal plant reduced its maximum to 7 cents, and again, in 1915, went down to the present rate of 5½c. for the first forty-five kilowatt hours in each month and 2c. for all over forty-five hours. ALL THREE CUTS WERE NECESSARILY MET BY STONE-WEBSTER PLANTS, and, what is equally significant, the private companies in all the country around were forced to lower their rates also, though they are still from 27 per cent. to 40 per cent. higher than in Seattle, where the cost to an average family for lighting is $1.10 a month, and for electric cooking $2.87 a month.

In the meantime the Seattle municipal plant, though constantly harassed in every possible way by the banded financial interests whose exorbitant profits are menaced by the growth of public sentiment in favor of public ownership of public utilities, has continued to grow and prosper in spite of the low rates, until it has accumulated a surplus of some three millions, all reinvested in extending and improving the plant, which accordingly has to meet in fixed charges only the interest on about four and a half millions of construction bonds, and these are being retired at the rate of some $70,000 a year. The competing private corporation, now named the Puget Sound Traction, Light & Power Company, IS CAPITALIZED AT $50,000,000 exclusive of outstanding indebtedness.

THIS SUCCESSFUL SEATTLE EXPERIMENT IN PUBLIC OWNERSHIP, SUCCESSFUL IN SPITE OF AS HEAVY HANDICAPS AS COULD BE ENCOUNTERED EVEN IN MASSACHUSETTS, HAS BEEN GOING ON FOR MORE THAN FOURTEEN YEARS. HOW MANY YEARS MORE OF SUCH OBJECT LESSONS IN THE ADVANTAGES OF SELF-GOVERNMENT WILL THE CITIZENS OF MASSACHUSETTS NEED BEFORE THEY DECIDE TO REFUSE TO BE FOOLED AND PLUNDERED ANY LONGER BY PRIVATELY-OWNED PUBLIC UTILITIES?

Free Trips to End Strikes

Copyright, 1919, Star Company

For the present the government of Seattle, managed by an energetic Scandinavian gentleman, Mayor Ole Hanson, seems to have the upper hand in a strike agitation that chose to call itself a "revolution."

Revolutions happen; they are of slow growth and are not planned or hatched in I. W. W. meeting places or elsewhere.

In the Seattle excitement city officials "declared that Seattle would operate its industries without union men and, if necessary, would advertise in the East and pay the fares of men to take the places of those who are out."

If labor troubles can be ended by taking men on the railroads without charge to places where they are needed, why couldn't labor trouble be prevented by doing the same thing?

In New Zealand, where the people own the railroads, any man out of work can go looking for work and travel on the railroads without paying. If he finds work, he pays his fare with the money he earns. If he doesn't find it, he comes back—and it doesn't cost him anything. If those with power would show as much resourcefulness and willingness to oblige under peaceful, everyday conditions as they show in emergencies, they might avoid some emergencies.

DON'T DEVOTE ALL YOUR ENERGY TO OUTSIDE AFFAIRS

Isn't it possible that you are giving too much thought to the big problems—the world problems—and too little thought to the questions which concern your personal welfare?

Isn't a lot of your time taken with reading and study to enable you to discuss some of your pet theories, instead of being used to figure out some of the perplexing things which occur every day at the shop or the office?

Well, of course, you should have time for individual thought, but don't carry your recreational mental digging to the extent that you forget your real responsibilities at your place of employment.

You feel that you give enough time to the firm while you are within the walls of the concern, do you?

Let the firm's business weigh heaviest, and wherever you see it needs a prop, be the pillar, which the tired boss will bless in his heart and eventually reward in a more practical way by advancement.

Polish Fund

Editor Boston American:

I must thank you sincerely for writing so kindly about Mr. Smulski's appeal issued at Washington, D. C., and also I must thank you for publishing the appeal of Mr. Paderewski, the Polish Premier. As you remember, both of these appeals dealt with asking the American public for aid.

I wish also to inform you that the Polish Citizens' Committee No. 206 of Boston, authorized by the Polish National Department of America, has collected $5,000 among the Poles of the West and North ends. This money has been already remitted to the headquarters of the P. N. C. of America, No. 2138 Pierce avenue, Chicago, Ill. This committee aids all the other movements in the city arranged for furthering the American or Polish cause. The treasurer is Mr. Adolph Doroszkiewicz of No. 19 Endicott street, where he still receives the contributions for the relief of Poland, or the donations may be sent to L. Sikora, No. 24 Clark street, city.

I hope that you will kindly use the information given herein, viz., that $5,000 was collected and sent to the Polish National Department.

A Single Tax Argument

Editor Boston American:

"Otherwise he (Senator Gifford) would be aware that the poll tax violates the cardinal principle of just taxation, which requires that the public burdens shall be distributed in proportion to the ability to bear them."—Boston American, March 1.

"Just taxation" would mean each recipient of public service paying for the amount put at his disposal—that is, paying as, presumably, he pays for a private service, according to quantity and quality.

If the "cardinal principle of taxation according to ability" be a sound one, why is it not applied in adjusting the charges for such public services as can be gauged by ordinary standards? Why, for instance, when a municipality supplies water, gas or electric lighting, or trolley transportation—why is the price per gallon, per cubic foot, or kilowatt, or per mile, always put at the same figure for everybody, rich and poor? Why doesn't Uncle Sam apply the "cardinal principle" in fixing postal rates?

It is solely with reference to the public service that cannot be gauged by the ordinary standards that the attempt (always a more or less abortive one) is made to adjust the charges according to the respective abilities (often merely conjectured) of the recipients to "cough up."

Nevertheless, there is a standard by which all services (outside of those necessitated by war and preparedness for war) that are properly public services can be gauged. Wherever there is need of civil administration, local, State or Federal, there is always a value that, not only in the aggregate, but in detail—that is, at any given point—always corresponds to the legitimate cost of the civil service available.

This is true of no other value—no value except the rental value of land has any necessary relation to the cost of civil administration. Or if there is any other such value, let it be named.

The collectivity's right to take economic rental value is based upon the right that underlies all other rights—the equal right of all men to the use of the earth, a proposition as self-evident as are the axioms upon which the science of mathematics is founded.

Let the collectivity take all of its own property before resorting to "other sources of revenue." Observance of the Eighth Commandment is no less incumbent upon the collectivity than upon the individual.

The "cardinal principle" of taxation, according to ability, is a survival of autocracy; of the doctrine of the divine right of the king; of the duty of his subjects to do everything in their power for him, without giving a thought to the question of how much he is doing for them.

Says American Did It.

Editor Boston American:

Relative to the letter I sent you dated February 26 and your reference to the same in your issue of the 27th inst., I beg to say that the Boston Elevated Railway Company has this week altered the car stops in a way which I think will prove beneficial.

By this same mail, I am forwarding to the company a well-signed petition which was under way when the company made the change which the petitioners were appealing for.

From the numerous expressions of approval I heard from people who read in your paper your notice of my letter, I feel the local public here owe to that said notice of yours the quick reform made by the Boston Elevated Railway Company.

HERE is an extract from a letter from a Red Cross nurse in France: "Perhaps you will be interested in one little incident. In our ward here there was a German prisoner blind in both eyes. At first he lay very quietly, and for some reason or other no one could hate him very hard. He seemed old and very gentle. When his eyes began to heal he got up and a Sammie with one good eye led him down to the store or into the line for chow. Some one put a button on his bed so he could tell it. Pretty soon he learned a bit of English, and before long everybody loved gentle, quiet, cheerful Fritz. He had a beautiful time on Christmas, but he didn't eat the candy that the Red Cross sent him. He saved it to take back to Germany to his children.

"Finally the day came for Fritz to go. The boys passed the hat and got a purse of over one hundred francs. This from boys who hadn't been paid for months and who get about nothing anyway. Then they sent Fritz off, and everybody felt real quiet.

"The Americans seem to be pretty poor haters, don't they? I wonder what will happen. I think we naturally see the other fellow's point of view."

SO THAT she might kill.
* * *
AND SHE'S over there.
* * *
WHERE THE war has been.
* * *
AND WHERE they have killed.
* * *
AND WHERE ruins are.
* * *
AND WHERE hell has reigned.
* * *
AND SHE'S seen it all.
* * *
AND OF course she knows.
* * *
WHERE THE blame all lies.
* * *
AND IN spite of that.
* * *
WHEN SHE searches her heart.
* * *
SHE FINDS no hate.
* * *
AND I'VE read her letter.
* * *
TO A woman friend.
* * *
WHO HAS stayed at home.
* * *
A VERY good woman.
* * *
WHO HAS done her bit.
* * *
IN A hundred ways.
* * *
AND SHE still hates.
* * *
AND I'VE read it, too.
* * *
TO A soldier man.
* * *
WHO IS back from France.
* * *
AND ALL he said.
* * *
WAS THAT he was so glad.
* * *
TO BE home again.
* * *
THAT HE had no hate.
* * *
FOR ANY one.
* * *
AND I'VE put it all down.
* * *
SO THAT you may read.
* * *
AND JUST for myself.
* * *
I WANT to say.
* * *
THAT I will be glad.
* * *
IF HISTORY tells.
* * *
THAT HERE in America.
* * *
THERE LIVES a people.
* * *
WHO REALLY don't know.
* * *
JUST HOW to hate.

I THANK you.

RICH PEOPLE WHO SKIMP; POOR MEN WHO LIVE

By Winifred Black

A MILLIONAIRE for a day. That's what they called him, the man who came East throwing quarters out of the car windows and tipping the waiters like a crazy man.

What a bad name for him! Little did the one who gave him the name know about millionaires.

How many of them do you know—millionaires? A dozen or so?

How many of them did you ever see throwing money out of car windows or anywhere else? Do tell!

A millionaire for a day! Do you know what I'd do if I wanted to make people of discernment think I was a millionaire? I'd count every penny till my eyes ached, and I'd look daggers to every one who seemed to expect me to spend a cent of it.

Traveling? Why, look at that man there in the seat opposite you in the dining car. He's a millionaire or next door to one. I'll stake a good dinner on it.

All the Earmarks

How do I know? Why, can't you see him counting what everything is going to cost before he orders it? Look, he's calculating whether daughter really ought to have a separate order of chicken or not, or whether she couldn't get on with a part of his and—there, he's telling his son that it doesn't do to eat too much when traveling; it's bad for the digestion.

Tip? Not so you'd notice it. He'll watch the waiter and get a chance to slip out of the car without remembering him at all, if he's a real millionaire.

The man across the aisle there, who's he? He's a poor relation, and always going to be a poor relation, too. It takes no prophet to tell us that. He couldn't raise a thousand dollars at a minute's notice to save his life; but just observe the dinner the rascal is ordering. Soup, birds, salad, everything to dessert. I'll warrant he takes the best cigar the manager has, too. He's out for a trip with a hundred or so in his pocket, and dear me, how he's enjoying it! And he will go to a good hotel, too, the spendthrift, and have one of the best rooms in the place, and every bellboy in the establishment will know the number of his room before he's been there a day.

Presents for the Folks

It'd like to look into his suit case when he starts for home. Trust Happy-Go-Lucky for a bag full of presents for the "home folks." Queer presents—things you'd never think of. An alligator pear or so for a salad, just to surprise them. What a gay, knowing fellow they'll think him when he shows them how to eat it!

The latest thing in fads for mother. She'll never wear it, dear old soul, but how her heart will warm when she takes it out and shows it to the millionaire's wife, whose husband never bought anything as personal as that for her in his life.

Theatres. He's been to every one in town, and he's taking the programs home to show, too, and he can remember the plot of every play he saw and the very costume of the girl on the end of the row—well—er—he won't say much about that, but he'll remember it.

Poor? Well, maybe, from the standpoint of his rich uncle. But whisper—what's money for if it hurts you to do anything with it?

Stars and Stripes

The symptoms of love vary, but the streak of foolishness is apparent in all.

The ability to talk the other fellow to death has often been mistaken for statesmanship.

Many of us would be ambitious to write popular songs if we did not think of the chaps who would sing them.

The Kaiser's Logs
Danger in Numbers
Big Business Is Here
The Dead, $5,000 Each

By Arthur Brisbane

(Copyright, 1919.)

Some are cut into souvenirs marked "W 2," meaning Wilhelm II., and these distributed to friends. Men who do that work for a living, says the Emperor, paid union rates, would earn fifty cents a day, not enough to pay the young gardener who fixes logs on the saw buck, ready for the Hohenzollern saw.

What thoughts have gone into these little piles of sawdust. How often has he, the former Kaiser, thought of the better use that might have been made of sixty-five millions of human beings, who working all their lives, most of them, as he works now. What better things could have been done than teaching them the goose-step, drilling and arming them for battle.

But men never write what they think, only what they think they OUGHT to think.

Bethlehem Steel, Mr. Schwab's company, earned last year a little more than fifty-seven million dollars. Mr. Schwab says it was a poor year; large amounts had to be "written off." Compared with the big United States Steel Corporation Mr. Schwab's company seems like a peanut stand. "Big money" is an elastic term. It is said of J. Ogden Armour that nothing makes him more indignant than to have some one refer to him as a "rich man." He is supposed to have said (this writer did not hear him say it): "They call me rich. Why, when I think of Carnegie or Rockefeller, it makes me feel like a gypsy."

Mr. Armour told the Senate Committee that the company which his family controls made something over twenty-five million dollars last year. One thing is sure, big business, whatever it may be, IS HERE.

United States claims against Germany for the Lusitania crime deaths filed on a democratic basis. This country asks the same sum, said to be five thousand dollars, for every life taken—the stoker, sweating below decks for small pay, the infant that never worked, the highly skilled man earning a big income, or the young Vanderbilt spending inherited millions but not producing.

All are alike in the eyes of the United States Government.

As you deal with men today think of their possible dealings with you tomorrow. A Frenchman, representing the King, answered the appeal of the poor with "Let them eat grass."

News comes now that peasants have broken into his castle and pillaged it, after beating him to death.

It takes men a long time to learn that numbers are powerful and dangerous. Von Arnim should have kept in mind the line taught him when he was a little boy:

The steamer Adriatic, short of coal, cannot sail to bring back soldiers because stevedores on strike refuse to put in the coal. These men are said to have just cause of complaint, but among their leaders there should be one intelligent enough to make them understand that to strike against the soldiers of your country is not wise.

Workmen that disregard patriotism, public sentiment and the service rendered to them by the army of the United States are injuring their class. They ought to know it.

DID GIANT OCTOPUS GET COLLIER CLYCLOPS?

Never has spar or splinter been discovered of the long-missing naval collier Cyclops. It is one of those unexplained mysteries of the sea. Now a well-known marine expert comes forward with the strange explanation that in his opinion it was the victim of an attack by a gigantic octopus! He thrillingly discusses the possibilities of such encounters between ships and these monsters of the deep in the next
